

Large Acreage of Wheat Will Be Planted Here

The abundant rains of the past month will bring a normal wheat acreage in Randall county.

"If Randall county had not received plenty of rains in the past month, there would have been 50,000 acres already planted," stated an observer Monday.

September 15 is the date usually set as the logical one for wheat planting. If wheat is planted before that time a second crop of weeds will spring up and take some of the early planted wheat. However wheat farmers are so anxious to get their wheat in the ground that they will likely start planting the first day possible.

It is unlikely that many farmers will be able to plant more wheat than the amount allotted by the government. The big row crop is developing so rapidly that it will be impossible to clear the ground and plant wheat this fall, state other observers.

The situation looks good for farmers during the coming year in spite of the loss of the wheat crop for 1950 through the continued drought and the green bugs.

Ben Guill To Visit Old Home Town in the Coming Week

Congressman Ben Guill is back in the Panhandle during the brief recess of Congress and has been invited to visit Canyon next week. He is busy making visits to various parts of the district this week, and speaking to luncheon clubs. He will be in Hereford Friday at the weekly lunch of the Rotary Club.

His plans for his last few days in the Panhandle were uncertain a few days ago, but he was invited to be in Canyon before returning to Washington.

Guill grew up in Canyon. He moved here from a farm near Hereford, and graduated from the Canyon high school. He took his degree from West Texas State before moving to Pampa to teach and later engage in business. He knows hundreds of Canyon citizens.

All-Electric Cooking School Will Be Held by The Canyon News

The Canyon News will sponsor an all-electric cooking school within the next few weeks. The date has not been set.

Southwestern Public Service Company is assisting in the cooking school, and furnishes the talent necessary to put on the school. All electrical dealers in Canyon will participate and are invited to have a display of their products.

The Canyon News has sponsored several cooking schools in past years, all of which have drawn large crowds of women.

It is planned to hold one meeting exclusively for men during the coming school.

Southwestern has put on schools at Carlsbad and McLean and plans to hold such schools in many other Panhandle towns in the near future.

Piano Department of Canyon Schools Announce Faculty

The piano department in the Canyon Public Schools will be affected very little by the consolidation.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen has accepted the position as public school music teacher in the Canyon Elementary School and will no longer be connected with the piano department.

Mrs. Ray McReynolds and Mrs. Ples Harper will continue as before. The college piano teachers will take as many piano students as possible, as they have in the past.

In addition, the school announces with pleasure that Mrs. Herschel Coffey will join the department and will use piano studios in both schools. Mrs. Herman Demus will be available at the Training School if another teacher is needed to meet the demand.

Rain Continues to Fall, With 1.59 Inches During Week

Daily rains have fallen in Canyon this week, starting with showers on Sunday and continuing until Tuesday night.

Moisture for the week has amounted to 1.59 inches, falling as follows: Sunday, .40 of an inch; Monday, .24; Monday night, .70; Tuesday and Tuesday night, .25.

Much heavier rains have fallen at various places over the Plains, but all sections have received some rain.

Mrs. Anna Ruth Hedgespeth of Long Beach, California, visited last week in the home of Carl Smith and Maggie Tinnin. On Sunday they had dinner in the Joe Nall home in Amarillo.

No Action Is Taken on Phone Increase Request

No action has been taken by the City Commission on the request of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for an increase in rates in Canyon.

A formal request for this increase was made last year by Mayor W. A. Warren, Commissioners G. A. Farlow and Lee Johnson. No action was taken at that time in view of the April election when it had been decided by the commission that none of the group would be candidates for re-election.

About a month ago officials of the telephone company came to Canyon to interview the city commission, but did not appear before the entire body. Mayor Andy Walsh, Commissioners O. W. Parker and Herschel Coffey were interviewed individually, but no request was made for immediate action.

Since increases in phone rates are being made to all the big cities of Texas, and there is considerable opposition to the rates as requested by the company, it is indicated that pressure is off the smaller towns for the present.

El Paso is one of the larger cities in Texas where increases have been approved.

Mrs. Findley Heads Council of Church Women For Year

The Council of Church Women met on Tuesday, August 29, at three o'clock in the Presbyterian Church to hear a review by Miss Helen White Moore of Albert Schweitzer's "Out of My Life and Thought."

During the business meeting, officers for the coming year were elected: President, Mrs. Joseph Findley; Vice-President, Mrs. T. H. Knighton; Secretary, Mrs. Bryan McDonald; Treasurer, Mrs. W. M. Higdon.

Area Chairmen elected were: Church and Its Outreach, Miss M. Moss Richardson; Bible and Life, Mrs. Gene Root; Personal Faith, Mrs. C. L. Joyner; Christian Family Life, Mrs. Burney Slack; Community Issues, Mrs. Richard Gidden; Major Social Problems, Mrs. Frank R. Phillips; International Relations, Mrs. I. F. SoRelle.

Announcement was made of the District meeting to be held in Amarillo on September 22 at the First Christian Church. Three state officers, including Mrs. Eidson of Waco, State President, will be present.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Edwards Paegle and Mrs. Edwards Salins, Displaced Persons from Latvia. Plans were made for a supper honoring DP families of Canyon.

Mildred Bryan Is Selected Gold Star Girl of Randall Co.

Miss Mildred Bryan of Happy was chosen the Gold Star Girl of Randall County for 1950.

Each year 4-H Clubs from all over the county nominate a girl from their club for the honor. To be nominated, she must be fourteen years of age and have been in club work for three years. These girls are then judged on the basis of the work they have accomplished while a 4-H club member. The winner of the contest may either go to Round-Up at A&M College at Cloiege Station or to District Camp.

It is quite an honor to be Gold Star Girl, and Miss Patterson is proud of Mildred and her work.

The judges for the contest this year were Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Jr., Miss Wynell Burrus and Miss Helen Meyer.

Plan Approval on Housing Units Will Be Made Sept. 15

A second approval of plans for the 16 units of public housing is expected by Sept. 15, according to Ted Reid.

The government has approved the issuance of $146,700 bonds against the property. The final approval of plans is expected by October 1st after which time it will be possible to let a construction contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid returned Monday from Cimarron, New Mexico, where they visited their daughter Virginia who is teaching the sixth grade. They returned by Red River and Santa Fe where they participated in Fiesta activities.

Marilyn White returned home Sunday after spending two weeks with Ruth Jameson in Kerrville.

City Commission Issues Statement Regarding Policy on Tax Values

Statement of City Commission regarding Tax Assessments on 1950 City Tax Roll.

The City Commission shares with all taxpayers concern over the increasing cost of government. Higher costs of labor and materials affect the city like other businesses, and 80% of the city expenditures goes for these items. Also, commitments have heretofore been made and continue to be necessitated for better fire and police protection, street and highway improvements, water and sewer extensions and other purposes so that the city may continue to grow and afford a more desirable place of residence. Due to these factors the City's budgeted expenditures for the current fiscal year are about 10% above 1949.

When the commission turned to consideration of the City's revenue situation, it feared some tax increases might be necessary. It was found, however, that while property values have risen along with other prices during recent years, tax reductions generally continue to be made at figures considerably below present true values. Substantial under assessment of property in the City resulted, yielding a condition equivalent to property escaping taxation. The commission regarded this situation as undesirable.

The Commission, as a first step, requested the Board of Equalization to carefully examine every rendition and appraisal in the city, and to determine to the best of the Board's ability the full and true value of the property as of January 1, 1950. They have endeavored most carefully, and the Commission believes successfully, to carry out this request. As a result it now appears that the taxable valuation of the City is sufficient to finance the current fiscal year without a tax increase. The City proposes to continue for the current year at the rate of $1.50 levied on a base of 25% of the true value of assessed property. This has been the City's tax formula for several years.

Incidentally, the Commission is satisfied that the work of the Board of Equalization has contributed substantially to eliminate discriminatory treatment as among taxpayers due to differences in value-assessment ratios. This Board will be in session Monday, September 18, at the City Hall to hear taxpayers who desire to discuss their tax assessments with the board.

Three Agencies Are Preparing to Collect '50 Taxes

It will soon be tax paying time in Randall county.

The Commissioners Court has finished its work of equalization and the county's tax rolls are being made by Tax Collector M. E. Cantrell. Tax payments are due on October 1st.

The city board of equalization has completed its work and notices will be mailed to day of increases in values. On September 18 the board will hear protests of increases, on the part of the city.

Lee Foster states that the board of equalization for the Canyon Independent School District will probably get started on its work this week.

Miss Florence Alexander of Amarillo visited Sunday with Valeta Haines.

Free Tickets to Be Given by the Quarterb'k Club

The Canyon Quarterback Club is sponsoring an all expense free plane trip for two persons to the University of Arizona vs. Buffalo football game at Tucson, Arizona on Sept. 23.

Season tickets for the Buffalo team are on sale, which includes the two games to be played at Buffalo Stadium and two games played at the Sandie Stadium in Amarillo. All ticket holders who buy season tickets on or before Sept. 9th will participate in the drawing of the Quarterback Club on September 19.

This is an unusual opportunity for Buffalo fans to cash in on their home tickets as well as secure a free plane trip to Tucson for the great game which will be played in Arizona.

Season ticket holders who buy their season tickets on or before September 9 will participate in this free offering by the Quarterback Club of Canyon.

Shacks Are Being Moved to a New Campus Location

Contracts have been made to move seven of the army barracks from the highway to the new location north of the pueblos on the campus. Two of the barracks have been moved and are in their new locations. Five more will be moved and ready for occupancy by the time college opens next week unless the weather prevents.

The removal of these barracks will take all of the barracks from the highway, except the group which is located south of Stafford Hall. This will make a considerable improvement in the looks of the campus from the highway.

Mrs. Ed Harrell Returns From European Tour

Mrs. Ed Harrell returned on August 30 from her tour in Europe. The group of twenty persons of which she was a member went over on the Queen Elizabeth and returned on the Queen Mary. They visited points of interest in France, Italy, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, and England. In Rome they attended the Passion Play in the Vatican which seats 4,000 to 5,000 persons at a time. In Venice they toured a factory where cut glass was made.

The home of the director of the tour is in London.

Miss McCreery Is Home For Visit

Miss Osce McCreery of 331 East 70th Street, New York City, arrived in Canyon Saturday for a visit with her father, J. W. McCreery and her sisters, Mrs. H. C. Long and Mrs. Richard Gidden, and other relatives and friends.

Miss McCreery was a graduate of West Texas State in 1934 and for the past 12 years has been in social service work in New York City. At present she is director of Children's House, Lenox Hill neighborhood.

Supt. E. A. Wooten Reports Great Improvements Canyon School System

Supt. E. A. Wooten explained some of the functions of the public schools at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. He was introduced by Principal J. E. Miller.

Mr. Wooten stated that the growth of the public schools had been remarkable in the past few years. He assured taxpayers that there was no immediate demand for a great increase in taxes at the present time. The Gilmer-Aiken law has been responsible for most of the developments of the past year.

The consolidation of the public schools and demonstration school was the greatest thing that has ever happened for the benefit of the children of Canyon.

The attendance Tuesday showed an enrollment of 307 in the demonstration school, which includes 166 in the junior high school; 361 in the Canyon elementary school; 300 in the high school. All of the junior high school students, 7 and 8 grades, attend the demonstration school, while all of the high school attends the Canyon school.

Under the plan worked out between the school board and the Regents and administration of the college, there is no immediate demand for a new building in Canyon. The contract may be terminated when

Record Machine Speed Up Work of County Clerk

Recording of instruments in the County Clerk's office will be greatly speeded up by the installation of a Dextragraph which is expected this week, stated County Clerk T. H. Lair.

With this system all instruments are recorded by photographing the original on the records. This will not only save time, but will eliminate errors in recording. The instruments will appear on the county records exactly as they appear on the original.

The clerk's office has been running several weeks behind, with recording due to the heavy business this year.

Get Some Paint To Change Hiway Population Signs

According to the State Highway Department, Canyon still has a population of 2600!

This is in spite of the census which gave the city a population of 4349.

A salesman who visited Canyon for the first time Friday remarked: "I thought that Canyon was a much larger town. It has all of the appearance of a town at least double your population of 2600."

He was advised that the State Highway Department had not gotten around to change the signs leading into Canyon.

"Is there a paint shortage in Canyon so that your Chamber of Commerce cannot get those signs changed," asked the visitor.

We shall see what we shall see about this situation.

Small Business Men Will Hold Meeting in Panhandle Oct. 6

Texas Republican Representative Ben Guill, Pampa, home over the Labor Day recess of Congress, has completed arrangements with Senator Schoepel, member of the Select Committee on Small Business, to send a group of agents from Washington to the Texas Panhandle to meet with businessmen and manufacturers concerning war contracts. The meeting will be held in Amarillo on October 6.

The group from the nation's capitol, known as the "Small Business Clinic," will be represented by Jess Larson, administrator of the General Services Administration, Harold Blythe of the Industrial Mobilization Planning Section, Commander Asher, USN, munitions board member and director of small business, and a Mr. Hughtett, director of small business in the Department of Commerce.

These four men will advise small businessmen as to what to expect in the line of and how to obtain war contracts and sub-contracts to aid in the expansion of the war effort.

Ralph M. Juillard, publisher of the Pampa Daily News, has been asked by Mr. Guill to organize the meeting along with the newspaper publishers of the Panhandle, the Texas Manufacturers Association and in cooperation with the Chambers of Commerce officials.

Business from all over the 18th Congressional District, as well as from the Oklahoma Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico, are invited and urged to attend the meeting on October 6.

It is important that the manufacturers and businessmen accord the group from Washington a good reception as it is the opinion of Mr. Guill that this meeting could do the Panhandle a lot of good.

More complete details will be announced later as the arrangements materialize.

Holt Moves Plant to New Building

A. B. Holt has moved the Randall County Abstract Company to its new location just west of its present location.

A new building has been erected for the exclusive use of the abstract business. It is arranged for the greatest convenience to the business.

Mr. Holt is executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and maintains the office in the building with his abstract office.

Extension of City Sewer Lines in East Part of Town Starts

J. Lee Milligan, Amarillo Excavating Contractor, will begin work this week on his contract with the City of Canyon for the installation of approximately 3,000 feet of six inch sewer line to serve the Pueblo Courts area of the College Campus, and the east part of the city south of Seventh Avenue which was taken into the City Limits by ordinance in April, 1950. Cost of the project will be approximately $1.00 per foot, plus additional costs for manholes and a lift station. The college is furnishing part of the cost for the Pueblo area. Harvey Schmidt, consulting engineer, Amarillo, is engineering the project.

Most Business Is Shut Up Tight on Labor Day

Monday was Labor Day.

You could tell it by the number of people who failed to be on the streets in Canyon. It was practically the deserted village, of which some poet or other wrote in the early days. Or was it something or somebody else? We don't know much about poets or their works.

For a time early last week it looked like few business houses would observe Labor Day.

One after another the business firms started falling into line.

By Saturday afternoon it was pretty generally agreed that Labor Day would be a general holiday in Canyon, and therefore many business men who had thought early in the week that they would be open, were lined up to close for the day.

That is, they kept their doors closed for the day, but as a matter of fact practically all firms had their bosses or the entire force at work cleaning up getting ready for fall business.

The Newsmen wandered around town looking for news, but decided to come back to the office and swat a fly!

Children's Theatre To Bring Play Here on October 11th

The American Association of University Women is sponsoring the return to Canyon for the third year of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre of New York. The play being brought this time is "Beauty and the Beast"; it is coming on Wednesday, October 11, at 9:30 in the morning. Prices for the performance are 40c for children and 75c for adults.

The average Clare Tree Major road company covers about 35,000 miles in a nine month tour. Companies can be found all season in such places as Niagara Falls, the Shenandoah Valley, the Texas Panhandle, and the Grand Canyon. Scenic effects offer no problem, since sets are constructed to be adaptable to any size of stage.

All children and other interested persons of Canyon and the vicinity are invited to see "Beauty and the Beast" at West Texas State College Administration Auditorium on October 11.

James A. McFarland Died as Result of Farm Accident

James Arthur McFarland, father of Mrs. Lawrence Miller of Happy, was killed recently when his foot was torn off by a haybaler.

Mr. McFarland, 67 years old, was baling hay eight miles south of Texola, Oklahoma, about 10:15 a. m. when his trouser leg became caught in the powerlift of the baler, pulling his right foot into the machine.

He was alone at the time of the accident, but workmen in a nearby meadow soon noticed that something was wrong and rushed to the scene. The victim was taken to Shamrock General Hospital by Cecil Mitchell and was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Funeral services were conducted from the Texola Baptist Church at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Tarbet in charge, assisted by Rev. M. L. Garrett.

Pall bearers were Cecil Mitchell, I. E. Emmert, Charlie Palmer, Max Downer, Vernon Carver, Adler Brooks, Logan Cummings, Leroy Neeley, and Weldon Phipps.

Interment was in Shamrock Cemetery under the direction of Richardson Funeral Home.

Mr. McFarland was born October 7, 1882, at Stephenville. He resided at Happy about 16 years before moving to Texola, six years ago. He was a farmer and rancher who met everyone with a smile.

Surviving are: the widow, Mrs. Dora McFarland of Texola; two daughters, Mrs. Charlie Fly of Shamrock, Mrs. Lawrence Miller of Happy; three granddaughters, Mrs. Bennie Ford of Shamrock, Mrs. Roy Bayless of Grant's Pass, Oregon, Mrs. C. A. Keller, Great Falls, Montana; one great grandson, Larry Bayless, Grant's Pass; three great-granddaughters, Tristi Len Ford, Shamrock, Margaret Lee Keller, Great Falls, and Linda Diane Bayless, Grant's Pass.

A son Arthur, passed away five years ago.

Congressional Election Is No Cinch For Rogers or For Guill

A visiting newspaper man in Canyon for his first time, came by The Canyon News office Thursday and complimented the story which was run about Congressman Ben Guill. That is nothing strange since this man was out working for Guill in the 18th Congressional District. However, the interesting part of his statement was that he was running into all kinds of Guill sentiment throughout the district.

"Regardless of what people say, Guill has a good chance in the November election, if people will really vote their sentiment, and not their prejudices," stated the visitor.

"I would like to see you take a real poll of Canyon, and publish all that people have to say about Ben Guill. You folks know him better than most people in the District. He is a Canyon boy, who is making good in a big way. He is respected in Washington by both Republicans and Democrats, and he is a better Democrat than a Republican, although he is flying the Republican colors in opposition to the silly Truman doctrines," stated the visitor.

If Ben Guill is re-elected in November, it will be okay by us. We know his ability, and certainly he has made no mistakes. We happened to be listening in on a conversation the other day during which time the sentiments favorable to Guill were expressed, and we printed them.

However, let it be remembered that Ben Guill, as a Republican, already has two strikes on him. Democrats generally do not like or trust Republicans. It is an old traditional prejudice which is hard to overcome. The foolish pledge which the Democrats place on the Texas primary ballots is responsible for much of this prejudice.

On with the battle. There will be big doin's in the 18th Congressional District in November.

Who Is Boss Is Largely Cause for Family Troubles in This Nation

Some of the psychiatrists are hard headed, stubborn boys.

They will tackle any problem and give you an answer without wasting words in shading the question until it loses forcefulness.

Now, what do you think is the greatest source of family trouble? This is a question that has wrecked romance, blasted family life and disintegrated the home. In fact, it is such a dangerous query that a cagey individual, male or female, will pass it up almost without reading it.

Not so, however with keen psychiatrists. Recently, one of them, right off the bat, and apparently without a thought of his home-life, said: "The struggle between husband and wife over who is going to be the 'boss,' is the answer to the query."

To add fuel to the fire, the man insists that "efficiency in family life is best served by the dominance of one person." This will not cause much trouble in itself. Every member of the family will readily agree. The havoc begins when somebody tries to gain the dominance.

Truth About an Editor Revealed

Every once in a while, an editor has the urge to write something utterly foolish. So, don't be surprised about anything that you read in our columns.

We quite cheerfully warn simple people ahead of time. Wise readers know the truth without being told.

We give away this secret about editors without reluctance and in order that our friends, who understand the matter may be quite sure that we also understand ourselves.

When the day arrives that we are not conscious that we do write absurd stuff at times, we will begin to worry. In fact, our close friends should keep an eye on us.

There is nothing so absurd as an editor who is always pawing at the "vitals" of subjects and cocksuckers that he knows all the answers to all the problems.

American Way Not Understood

One of the glittering generalities that bobs up in almost every public effort of orators is the "American way."

If a stranger in our midst wanted to know what "the American way" meant, he would have a hard time figuring it out. The answer to the search would depend upon whether he read Democratic or Republican oratory.

In the interest of clearer thinking, might not our speakers be more exact in their language? Could they say just what they think "the American way" means?

If one is interested in studying the topic and delves into the records of the formation of the United States of America, he will discover that there was considerable difference of opinion and that the "wise old patriots" of our early life expressed robust opinions about those who disagreed with them.

This seems to be about the nearest that one can approach to a definition of "the American way." It continues to abide with us.

The public would be surprised if it could see a list of the "disabled" veterans of World War One, including able-bodied citizens drawing compensation from Uncle Sam.

Advertisers in The Canyon News help make possible the full presentation of news that this newspaper contains; therefore, readers should patronize advertisers.

We do not think much of the policy of our news services in hiring foreigners to represent them in foreign countries, even if they write under assumed and Americanized names.

No person is intolerant who remains loyal to his, or her, religion, regardless of whether other people like it or not.

Russia brands the United States as the aggressor in Korea but it says nothing about North Korean attacks upon South Korea.

We have no sympathy for business men who complain that they paid some stooge for "influence" and then didn't get it.

Nearly everybody favors any action of the government that tends to put money in their pockets.

It has gotten to the point nowadays that unless you toot your own horn nobody else toots it.

Attempt to Shut Up MacArthur Purely Political Move by Truman

Theoretically General MacArthur was wrong in issuing a statement regarding the Korean situation without first clearing it with the White House. He is in uniform, and has a commanding officer in the White House.

Practically, MacArthur was right. He has lived longer in the East than any man in Washington. Therefore he is entitled to his opinions. He has listened to various statements from sundry Democratic officials in Washington, and no wonder he felt that he had the right to talk on a subject of which he knew more than those who are trying to run the war in the East.

MacArthur outwitted Truman and the Democrats by issuing his statement to the press before it was cleared in Washington. By this manner he got his message over to the people long before Truman stopped its issuance before the group for which it was written.

So far as known, Truman has never contradicted any of the statements which have been made by members of his official family. He has been too busy playing politics, and issuing statements of his own.

It seems that we are in a very precarious situation in the East—much more serious than the average citizen realizes. We must eventually win out; but how and when is another question.

You must recall that MacArthur is a potential opponent to the President in 1952, and the Democrats are determined to make him the goat of the Korean war.

The Irish Question Once Again

When the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe was debating the proposal to create a European army for the defense of the Western world, the debate was interrupted by a series of Irish speakers who threw the Assembly into an uproar by vigorously denouncing the British Government as the "oppressor" and "aggressor" in Ireland.

Like some pressure groups in this country, the Irish representatives, wherever they happen to be, cannot cooperate with other free peoples because, before attempting anything in concert, they take the position that they cannot cooperate until the Irish Partition question has been settled and by settled, they mean settled their way.

It should not be overlooked that this same attitude prevailed in Southern Ireland during the last war. Attempting to blackmail the free nations of the earth, which were busy fighting Hitler and his minions, the Irish refused to permit the use of bases in their country by the Allies and the net result was that the British and American soldiers faced greater perils, our common shipping was endangered and the Nazis and their associates had the pleasure of whatever comfort the Irish action gave them.

Our Economy Is Not Perfect

The Socialists, as some readers may know, denounce the private profit principle, but this, in itself, is not a crime. Certainly, it is no more absurd than the position taken by some of our industrial and financial leaders, who deny that there are any abuses in connection with the present economic organization of the United States.

We are among those who believe in the private profit principle, which the Socialists blame for many of our ills, but we do not deny the need for greater regulation by the Government in order that private greed be adequately restrained for the public good.

We are of the faith that believes that the private profit principle encourages individuals and that our economic machine is greater today because of that principle than it would have been without it.

We recognize the gradual assumption by many industrial and financial leaders of an obligation to society and prefer to base our hopes of progressive improvement upon the spread of this spirit rather than in any immediate assumption of complete control of the national economy of governmental agencies.

While recognizing the gradual adoption of socialist principles in the past in almost every democratic nation and admitting a drift that way in public thinking, we do not believe that there will be any sudden and violent change in existing American institutions.

The influence of socialist thought upon the affairs of mankind has been, and is tremendous. In the United States, however, the advance for the organization of society for the common good will continue to be based upon the American ideal, including much individualism and such private profits as the average individual is able to acquire.

At times, unthinking people of Irish descent in the United States follow much the same tactics in connection with the relationship between this country and Great Britain. Unwilling to recognize that the independence of the Republic of Eire depends upon British suzerainty and that its safety and security were at stake in Hitler's aggressions, they resolutely refuse to cooperate with the democracies. Thoughtless Irish-Americans in the United States drag the Irish question into every phase of our relationship with the British Empire and, whenever possible, with other nations abroad.

If the atomic bomb is such a danger, it would appear wise for the United States to compel industry to build new plants in scattered areas, away from congested localities.

The North Koreans, it seems, fight war in an unorthodox fashion but, in the end, they will be whipped in a thoroughly orthodox fashion.

When the Army rejects men because they are not intelligent enough to fight, it should put them in labor battalions unless they are too weak to work.

There is no excuse for the attacks upon our public school system; considering the lack of financial resources, the public school system has performed wonders.

If the nation cannot be reasonably assured of peace it should be reasonably assured of winning the next war.

The next time you get mad with somebody just ask yourself how important the quarrel will be in about ten years.

Unfortunately, some of the June brides are now beginning to wonder what persuaded them.

With all the hints on etiquette that the newspapers print, people ought to be well-behaved.

The hoarders of a month ago look rather silly now but they always looked disgusting.

Better Sight BY THE CARTON

Lamps with empty sockets are about as handy as a ship without a sail! No matter how efficient... or how many lamps you may have around the house... they're so much excess baggage if your supply of lamp-bulbs is down to the bottom of the carton.

Good light is so necessary to good sight. And a carton of bulbs always on hand is insurance against "bulb snatching"... being without... or inconvenient rushing to the store.

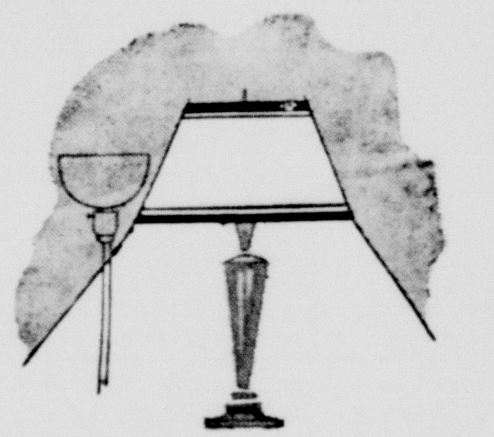

Yes, BULBS ARE MIGHTY IMPORTANT... cleanliness is, too! Your lamps and fixtures should be kept clean. Dust and dirt can rob you of half the light you pay for. Reflector bowls can be washed with soap and water... bulbs wiped clean with a damp cloth. Shades may be dusted, washed or dry-cleaned... depending on the type fabric. Light-conditioning your home is economical, too... low cost, dependable electric service makes it so!

THERE'S A BULB FOR EVERY JOB...

40-60 watt—Strictly decorative... such as boudoir lamps, brackets, etc.

75-100 watt—Decorative and functional where the seeing task isn't too demanding.

150-300 watt—Reading, sewing... where good, strong light is needed for proper "see-ability."

AFRAID NOT

Somehow nobody seems to find out who is going to psycho-analyze the psychoanalysts to learn whether they are sane and responsible.

NOT SO SLOW

Three men named Jones, all in the same line of business, opened shops next-door to one another. The one on the right had the name "Jones" painted in large letters over the door. The one on the left immediately did the same thing.

The sign-painter then approached the center Mr. Jones, asking him if he would like his name painted also.

"No," said the wily one. "I want you to paint the word 'entrance,' over my door."

READY FOR BUSINESS

Attracted by a bright youngster, a dear old lady said to him:

"I'd give a thousand pounds to have a little boy like you for my own."

"That's a lot of money, isn't it?" said the lad.

"Yes, but I have lots of money and no little boy."

"Mother wouldn't let you have me for good," said the boy. Then he thought for a minute and added brightly, "But you can hold my hand for sixpence."

Soviet Radio Sets Estimated At 1,300,000

LONDON—According to a survey by the United Nations there are only 1,300,000 regular radio sets in all of the Soviet Union on the basis of the latest available figures.

There are also 6,500,000 "wired receivers" in Russia over which government-monitored and approved programs are piped to Russian listeners. The only choice offered to listeners is between one Soviet broadcast and another.

The report did not say how many of the 1,300,000 regular Russian sets were short wave and even capable of picking up American and British broadcast in Russian beamed at the Soviet Union.

The survey showed the United States was the largest radio listening nation in the world and Britain was the largest newspaper reading country.

U.S. First in Radios

It said that in the United States every two persons owned a radio set and in Britain one daily paper was sold for every two people.

In the Soviet Union only one daily paper is sold for every six persons.

The survey, compiled at the request of the United Nations sub-commission on the freedom of information and the press, also included the following data:

Total circulation of daily papers throughout the world is nearly 219,000,000 a day; there are 160,000,000 radio sets and more than 44,000 cinema seats.

The United States is sixth as a newspaper-reading nation, preceded by Britain, Norway, Luxembourg, Denmark and Sweden.

Russia Has 7,163 Papers

But Britain is second to the United States in the number of radio sets. There are 566 sets to each 1,000 persons in the United States and only 227 in Britain.

The survey said that the Russian-wired receivers picked up broadcasts from Soviet stations and transmitted them to subscribers by wire; the equipment in the listener's home consisted simply of a loudspeaker. The listener's choice is limited to the program selected for him, the survey showed.

The survey said that many countries in Africa, Asia and South America were poorly off for means of communication. In the underdeveloped parts of Africa there are millions without a newspaper in their own tongue.

The survey showed that the average person in the United States went to the movies 32 times a year, the average Briton 29 times and the average Russian three times.

In the Soviet Union, 7,163 papers were published in 1947 in seventy languages, against 8,769 papers pre-war; circulation in 1947 was 31,100,000 against 38,000,000 before the war.

Film to Help Women Detect Symptoms of Breast Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO—A motion picture film which doctors are counting upon to save the lives of thousands of women made its debut recently.

The film uses a live model to show how women can examine themselves for the first signs of breast cancer. It will be released for private showings to women's organizations. It was produced by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute, a division of the United States public health service.

In the United States about 50,000 women get breast cancer every year and about 20,000 of them die of it later. If it can be detected quickly, the victim's life nearly always can be saved by quick surgical removal of the malignancy.

For quick detection, said Dr. Austin V. Deibert, of the cancer institute, a monthly examination of all women over 35 is needed. The only hope, he added, is to show the women themselves how to look for signs of breast malignancy.

Just in From Desert, Burro Very, Very Dry

LONG BEACH, Calif. — George Brown Hayes, a cook, was talking spiritedly to a burro in a beach-side zoo and the officer on duty, John Logan, didn't interfere.

But when Hayes suddenly nodded his head and tipped a wine bottle into the burro's throat, Logan exercised his authority.

"That jackass asked me for a drink, so I gave it to him," protested Hayes, booked for intoxication. "He said he just got in from the desert and he was terribly, terribly dry."

New Scale So Sensitive It Will Weigh Nothing

ROANOKE, Va. — A new scale so sensitive that it will weigh one-thirtieth of one-billionth of an ounce has been perfected, Dr. Jesse W. Beams, noted physicist, has announced.

The scale will not be used to measure separate items. But in chemical reaction field scientists will be able to use the new tool.

Personal income in June, $1,800,000,000 above May figure.

SUPER-TAX

The Senate Finance Committee is weighing the possibility of putting a super-tax in 1951 on war-inflated incomes of individuals as well as upon the excess profits of corporations. It is also exploring the possibility of a national whole-sale or retail sales tax and a national transactions levy which might be an expansion of the retail sales tax idea to put a tax on each transaction for goods or services.

Billie Marie Jones-David Morris Married in Informal Ceremony

MRS. DAVID MORRIS

Wedding vows for Miss Billie Marie Jones and Mr. David Morris were solemnized in an informal ceremony in the bride's home on Saturday night, September 2. Miss Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff D. Jones of 233 Alta Plaza, Corpus Christi; the groom is the son of Mrs. Letha M. Morris of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white wool suit with brown accessories. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon. Her only attendant, Mrs. E. E. Wheelless, Jr. of Fort Worth, wore an aqua street length dress and carried a colonial bouquet of pink asters. Best man was Frank C. Hacker of Canyon, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's table was laid with a cloth of Italian cut work and centered with an arrangement of white asters and angel lilies. The cake was in the shape of a Bible.

For a short wedding trip the bride chose a suit of desert rose gabardine complimented with mauve and grey accessories. The couple will be at home in Waco.

Mrs. Morris will graduate from Baylor University in November. Mr. Morris received his B. A. from Baylor last August. Previously he had served 3½ years in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Letha Morris, mother of the groom, Dayton Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hacker, and Weldon Hacker of Canyon.

Dickerson-Miller Vows Solemnized in Home Service

In a pretty home wedding, Miss Sue Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dickerson, became the bride of Mr. Clinton E. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Miller of Happy.

The wedding was solemnized Friday morning, September 1, 1950, at ten o'clock. For the exchange of vows, the couple stood between two candelabra of lighted tapers flanked with baskets of pink and white dahlias and gladioli.

Rev. A. L. Shaw, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Happy, read the double ring service.

Betty Miller, sister of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers. She wore a taupe crepe dress with a corsage of white asters.

Joe Dickerson, brother of the bride, was usher.

Miss Fay Dickerson, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a copper satin dress with brown accessories and carried a colonial nosegay of pink and white asters.

Bill May of Happy was best man. The bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a sapphire blue satin dress with navy accessories and carried a white satin Bible showered with gardenias and white satin streamers tied in love-knots.

For something old, she carried her maternal grandmother's wedding handkerchief that was over fifty years old and had been carried by other brides in her family.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dickerson wore light blue faille, with brown accessories. Mrs. Miller, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy print silk with black accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at 900 Seventh Ave., the home of Mrs. W. D. Walker, Jr., sister of the bride. The serving table was laid with a white linen damask cloth, a wedding present of the bride's mother twenty-seven years ago. The table was centered with a miniature bride and groom atop a pedestal of styrofoam surrounded by white satin ribbon tied with lover's knots and interspersed with pink and white rose buds.

Miss Emma Gene Zachry poured and Miss Chloe Ann Black served the pink and white bride's cake. Miss Wanda Jean Edwards registered the guests. Only the immediate families and close friends of the couple attended the wedding.

For traveling to points of interest in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore a navy gabardine suit with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Miller is a 1949 graduate of Canyon High School and has attended West Texas State College.

Mr. Miller is a 1949 graduate of Happy High School and has attended Texas Tech.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home on their farm, six miles east of Happy.

Zimmer-Bellah Wedding Plans Announced

MISS FERN ZIMMER

The engagement and approaching marriage of Fern Zimmer, 118 Angelus Drive, Amarillo, to J. C. Bellah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bellah, was revealed Saturday afternoon at a tea given by Willnell Zimmer, sister of the bride-elect.

Miss Zimmer is the daughter of Anton Zimmer.

Guests were greeted at the door by the hostess and presented to the honoree, Mrs. Bellah and Mrs. H. G. Miller of Dallas.

The honoree's chosen colors of aqua and dusty rose were featured in the decorative appointments. Laid with an Irish linen cutwork cloth, the serving table was centered with bridal figurines set in a heart of satin and banked with chrysanthemums. White tapers in crystal holders completed the arrangement. Gold letters around the heart read "Fern & J. C. Oct. 7, 1950."

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. R. M. Rose, Mrs. Bill Elliott, Mrs. Karl H. Adams, Mrs. A. W. Lair, and Frances Blessen. Elizabeth Zimmer secured names for the guest register. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Albert Zimmer, Shirley Morris of Vega, Mrs. John Zimmer and Mrs. Leon Holman.

Members of the house party wore corsages of chrysanthemums.

The wedding will be on October 7 in the Polk Street Methodist chapel.

Glen and Rebecca Ann Prater and their cousin Larry Prater took Mrs. Louis Reed and children, who have visited in the parental A. D. Prater home for several weeks, to their home in Eldorado, Arkansas, last week.

Friends of Rev. Charles Dickey will be interested to know that word has been received that he has been assigned and is on his way to active duty in the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Prater and Rebecca Ann spent last week in Lubbock.

HI LO BRIDGE MEET IN LOUIS G. HINDERS HOME

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Louis G. Hinder entertained the Hi Lo Bridge Club in her home. High prize was won by Mrs. W. J. Wooten, Jr.; Mrs. Borden Price won the low prize while Mrs. Stuart Condron took the traveling prize.

Favors of hand painted linen handkerchiefs were given.

Refreshments of pineapple dessert topped with ice cream, angel food cake, and iced tea were served to Mrs. Weldon Hager, tea guest; Mrs. Eddie Connor, Mrs. E. A. Wooten, Mrs. Cliff Milnar, Mrs. T. E. Seifert and Mrs. Don Didier of Los Angeles, guests; and to Mesdames A. C. Haley, Jr., W. W. Sternberg, Chris Wooten, Fred Jennings, W. J. Wooten, Jr., Oscar Hinger, Borden Price, B. B. Warren, Stuart Condron, Clark Jarnagin, Tommie Lair, Cliff Milnar, C. E. Thompson, Jack Walker, James Murphy White, Harold Irwin and the hostess.

PRENUPTIAL PARTIES HONOR SEPTEMBER BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. C. A. Murray and daughter, Mrs. Henry Blackburn of Amarillo were hostesses for a luncheon complimenting Miss Mary Lee McGehee, bride-elect of Lindsey Taylor, on August 19 in the Blue Room of West Texas State Cafeteria.

The table was centered with an arrangement of cactus dahlias and Marconi daisies. Each guest was presented a small corsage. The hostesses presented the honoree a gift.

Those attending were the honoree, Mrs. D. K. McGehee, her mother, Bettie McGehee, Pamela McDonald, Mrs. Wilford Taylor, Sr., mother of the groom, Mrs. Curtis McGehee and Mrs. Melton McGehee of Wayside, and the hostesses.

Sunday afternoon Mary Lee and Lindsey were honored with a picnic supper in Palo Duro Canyon. Mrs. Guy Watson and Mrs. Melton McGehee of Wayside were hostesses. Approximately 100 guests were served.

Final Drawing of Treasure Hunt Will Be Held on Sunday

The final drawing of the 1950 Treasure Hunt will take place at the lodge in the Palo Duro Park Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The Chevrolet car will be awarded to some lucky person who has the right coin for the drawing.

In spite of the heavy rains of this week, the attendance at the Park has passed the 90,000 mark. The Canyon is beautiful after the summer rains and large crowds are expected for the balance of the year.

John M. Cooper Dies at Lockney

John M. Cooper, well known Floyd County farmer and landowner, died in Floyd County Co-operative Hospital in Lockney Monday morning. He had been seriously ill the last ten days.

Mr. Cooper was 71 years old. A native of Bowie, he had operated a farm about 4 miles north of Lockney for 43 years.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Lockney. Rev. R. H. Campbell, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church of Plainview, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. J. Cobb, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lockney.

Interment was in Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Survivors include the wife; two sons, Paul of Lockney and W. Leo Cooper of Canyon; a daughter, Mrs. D. H. Borum of Borger; a sister, Clara Cooper of Los Angeles, Calif.; and five grandchildren.

Randall Co. Home - D. Council Meets in Regular Session

Randall County Home Demonstration Council met Saturday, September 2, in regular session with all officers present and thirteen clubs represented.

Highlights of the meeting were the reports given by the three delegates to the state meeting, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. R. A. Burrus, and Mrs. Harold Byars. At this meeting state officers were elected, and some changes were made in the constitution. The reports were enjoyed very much.

In the business session Mrs. Frank Simon, yearbook chairman, announced that the two subjects chosen by popular demand for next year's study are clothing and breads and other cereals. She also reminded that club programs are due now.

Mrs. Earl Burtz, marketing chairman, had a report on a camera and projector and other equipment which the council has been planning to buy. This material will be used by Miss Patterson in her demonstrations and by the various home demonstration clubs for their programs.

Final plans were made for the four tours to be held in this county in September. The dates are Friday, September 8, Wednesday, September 13; Thursday, September 21; and Thursday, September 28.

Mrs. Otto White, chairman of a special committee, presented a resolution of respect to the club and family of Mrs. Fred Sogree.

Council adjourned to meet again, Saturday, October 7.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gray and sons returned Monday from a trip to Channing.

H. D. Club Women Study Landscaping, Home Improvement

The home demonstration club women of the county will have a series of four tours in September to see some of the home improvement and landscaping that has been done in recent years. Between forty and fifty homes will be visited in all.

Every person who is interested is invited to go on these tours on which they will see a good cross section of the farm homes of the county. The first three tours will start in Canyon at 1:30, and the fourth will begin at 10 a. m. Interested parties will gather east of the court house.

The first tour is scheduled for Friday, September 8. (If it is raining that day it will have to be postponed.) This tour will start at the M. H. Rockwell home, where a person may see a yard that has been developing for more than twenty-five years. Next is the W. C. Angel home, with a new house and a new yard. Storage in the home will be one of many points to enjoy in the house. The yard is rapidly developing from well made plans. The Glenn Truax home has excellent and unusual use of floor space and many time and labor saving devices. It is entirely different in architectural plan to any other house on the tour.

The C. M. Purcell's place shows long time planning with its trees and wind breaks growing, and basement to the house completed and ready to use under part of the proposed house while the family live in the garage apartment. The Charles Higgins' home is new and cleverly decorated. It, too, makes good use of floor space.

The J. C. Arden place has a yard that has been a landscape demonstration for ten years, and will show what can be done in that time. The house has been redecorated recently and will be enjoyed by those on the tour.

The O. E. Wineinger place shows how a home can be brought back in one year after a great disaster. Yard and house both will be visited. The Kenneth Erwin home is the home of a young family with spacious lawns and evidence throughout the place that the young daughters are considered in all the planning.

The James Jennings place and the E. A. Michael place south of the canyon will be visited. Yards and houses both will be visited at each place.

The Jennings place has a wind-break in its second growing season and the Michael place has a wind-break 10 years old, so they will make an interesting comparison.

Highland News

Signs of approaching autumn are present everywhere in our community. Fields are dotted with shocks of feed. The maize crops are turning from green to various colorful shades denoting maturity. There is the buzz of excitement among the school children who are anticipating the opening of school. The weather is cooler and we are having scattered thunder showers.

The Palo Duro Baptist Church has just finished a revival meeting. Rev. A. F. Russell of Georgetown, Texas, did the preaching. Rains hindered the attendance a few times during the week.

Mrs. Roy Lee Jones is on the sick list this week.

Sunday guests in the W. N. Cretzinger and Temple Jarnigan home were: W. T. Jarnigan of Bridgeport, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Duane McGraw and David and Mr. and Mrs. Charles all of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Evans, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Schneider of Pueblo, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Boling of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Womble and Sharon visited in the community over the week end.

The community welcomes Mr. and Mrs. K. Poole and boys who have moved from Bushland. They have moved on the Kearns place.

Mr. Cartright is home from the hospital now. He received painful injuries on the arm when he was thrown from a tractor.

Mrs. Winston Evans accompanied Mrs. J. J. Boling to Dimmitt Saturday. Mrs. Boling will teach there this winter.

Bobby Mickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mickey, left Friday night to report to Albuquerque for service with the U. S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Costley and family of Amarillo were Sunday afternoon visitors in the Gladys Haines home.

Elmer Gene Mickey and Billy Harwood returned Saturday from a week vacation in New Mexico, Colorado and Utah.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thomas returned Sunday from Durham, Oklahoma, where they visited her brother R. H. Bingham.

Misses Pauline Brigham and Helen White Moore are in Houston this week.

Mrs. D. A. Nicholas returned from Council Bluffs, Iowa, Tuesday night.

Bufs Open Drill Good Shape Says Frank Kimbrough

The Buffaloes are going through two hard practice periods daily getting ready for the opening game with Flagstaff at Amarillo on September 16.

"The team looks good, and in much better physical condition than they usually are after two weeks of practice," states Coach Frank Kimbrough.

Ten men who have been with Company F at Fort Hood reported Monday, hardened following two weeks hard training for military action.

The Bufs drew a good looking bunch of freshmen who are working with the Varsity in the two hard daily practices.

The team has a hard schedule of ten games ahead of them, two at Buffalo Stadium; two at Amarillo Stadium; and six away from home.

Printing will start this week on the football programs at The News office, as soon as cuts are received from the engravers. The programs will be large and attractive.

S. B. Whittenburg Heads Economy Block Drive

S. B. Whittenburg of Amarillo, has been appointed director of the Texas Economy Commission for the Thirty-first State Senatorial District, according to announcement today by Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, secretary of the TEC.

As TEC director for this district, Mr. Whittenburg will supervise the activities of TEC branches in the 26 counties that comprise the Panhandle district. The TEC was appointed by Governor Allan Shivers as an advisory body to study the executive branch of the state government and recommend a legislative program for efficient and economical recognition.

By this appointment, Mr. Whittenburg ranks in the TEC organization with directors of all 31 Senatorial districts in the state, plus nine directors a large.

The new director, in accepting the appointment, said he expected to assist individual TEC members in the Panhandle counties with organizing their county branches.

These county branches will serve as clearing houses for questions and answers on the need for and aims of the TEC. They will also assist in raising a statewide quota of $75,000 to finance the TEC studies of the government, as no tax funds are available for this purpose.

This district's share of the statewide quota is $3,000.

Mrs. W. Wilson Sang in Springfield, Ohio

Mrs. W. R. Wilson appeared as soloist at the Fourth Lutheran Church, Springfield, Ohio, Sunday singing the Ninety-first Psalm by MacDermid.

Mr. Wilson is professor in Physics at West Texas State. Together with their two children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have been visiting in the home of her parents in Springfield.

Visitors of Mrs. W. S. Myers last Wednesday were Mrs. W. D. Allen of Amarillo and her sister Mrs. Allene Pace of Fort Worth.

Mrs. W. S. Myers returned Tuesday afternoon from a four day visit with her daughter Mrs. J. D. Price in Plainview.

Mrs. Joyce Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Womble of Denver, Colorado, visited Friday in the G. B. Combs home.

Sunday dinner guests in the R. D. Lowry home were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gum and family.

Bernard Warren and Bobbie Black went to Temple Tuesday, taking a patient in a Griggs-Warren ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Frieze were in Terrell over the week-end looking after business.

Guill Opens His Campaign Full Term in House

Congressman Ben Guill, home from Washington during the House recess, opened his re-election campaign Monday night with an address in his home town of Pampa.

Guill reviewed his voting record in the house, and attacked the "Crazy quilt" foreign policy of the Administration.

"We have been running our international affairs on a day-to-day basis," he declared. "We have zig-zagged and reversed ourselves, and more often than not, we have zigged when we should have zagged. We have lost the respect and confidence of our allies through our timid, political and revolving State Department."

The 18th district representative recently introduced in the House a joint resolution demanding that the State Department set and follow definite foreign policies in Europe and Asia.

Guill also is the author of a farm bill which would establish a bi-partisan advisory committee from among farmers themselves, allowing them to participate in the writing of their own agricultural program. This bill is now in the House Agriculture Committee, of which the Pampa lawmaker is a member.

Guill declared that if President Truman vetoes the anti-communist bill, which Guill supported, he will vote to override the veto. Guill was paired against the controls bill which passed the House last week.

"Some of the time, I voted with the Republicans; sometimes I voted against the Republicans," he explained. "I always voted as my conscience dictated, and in the way I thought best for the people of America generally, and the people of the Panhandle in particular."

One passage of Guill's address hit hard at bossism in politics.

"I have heard that a political boss in Amarillo has hopes of electing his own private Congressman in the November election by beating Ben Guill," he said. "If he wants to become boss of the Panhandle, this individual most certainly will have to beat Ben Guill, because I am opposed to bossism and all it stands for. There is no room in our Government for a privately operated Congressman."

Guill will return to Washington next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joe Stevens and family, who have been visiting in the P. L. Pitt and Mrs. Lessie Stevens home for the past two weeks, will leave the last of the week to return to Waco where Roy Joe will enroll in Baylor University for the fall term. Mr. and Mrs. Pitt will take them to Waco and go on to Temple where Mrs. Pitt will go through the clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dowd left Sunday for San Antonio where he will see a specialist. They will be gone about a week.

Mrs. Lessie A. Stevens, Shirley Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joe Stevens and family and Jack Bremer have returned from vacationing in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thurston of Toronto, Canada, are visiting in the Nicholson home. He is a linotype operator in the trades plant. This was their first visit to Texas.

American Merchant Marine Faces Serious Competition

Resurgence of the merchant shipping fleets of maritime nations and the building up of such fleets by nations previously possessing little or no shipping, poses serious competitive factors for the American merchant marine in the foreign trades.

This was evident from a survey of the world's merchant fleets, highlights of which were made public by National Federation of American Shipping. Among the highlights were:

Upon completion of vessel construction currently underway or on order the world's merchant fleet of oceangoing ships of 1,000 gross tons and over will total almost 89 million deadweight, or 12% larger than in 1939, excluding U. S. government-owned tonnage.

At the beginning of 1949 a total of nearly 12 million dwt. of merchant shipping was on order or under construction in the world. Of this amount Great Britain was building more than half; the Marshall Plan nations as a group accounted for 70 per cent; the United States only 12 per cent.

War losses in passenger ships largely used as troop transports have not been fully replaced. The United States passenger fleet (ships capable of carrying more than 100 persons) is today 51.6 per cent less than prewar. Passenger fleets of other nations have also declined, but not as severely as that of the U. S. The passenger fleet under the British flag is 27 per cent less than prewar; the Marshall Plan nation's aggregate fleet 37 per cent, and overall world passenger fleet 44 per cent.

Use of Schmidt Camera Explained by Scientists

A Schmidt camera is a type of astronomical camera, announced in 1930 by a German astronomer named Bernhard Schmidt. Light falls on a concave mirror that has the shape of part of the surface of a sphere. Such a mirror by itself cannot form a sharp image but suffers from what is called "spherical aberration," so a specially shaped lens is placed in front, according to scientists of the G. E. research laboratory. After the light rays pass through, they hit the mirror in such a way that they are focussed sharply on a film between the lens and mirror.

The advantage of such a camera is that it gathers a great deal of light and at the same time can photograph a large area of the sky. The same optical system is now used in television receivers where the picture is projected on a large screen, the picture tube taking the place of the film.

Light from its face hits the mirror and is reflected through the lens to the screen. Thus the direction of the light is just opposite to that used in taking pictures but the optical effect is the same.

Insect Poisoning in Chickens

Chickens generally are able to consume insects without much danger of ill-effects. In fact, there is only one species that is definitely known to be poisonous. This is the rose chafer, found in the eastern United States, in Canada, and as far west as Colorado. It thrives from the latter part of May to early July and seems to be palatable to chickens. Week-old chicks die after eating 15 or 20 of these insects, according to veterinarians, but birds become more resistant to the poisonous effects as they grow older. The rose chafer harbors a toxic substance that affects the chicken's heart. Convulsions and drawing of the head and neck over the back are typical symptoms. Death of poisoned birds usually occurs within 24 hours, although some recover.

Life Insurance Assets

Total life insurance assets of all U. S. companies now average $722 per policyholder, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. These assets, made up largely of the invested funds held as policy reserves, represent an indirect investment by policy holders. About one third, or $240 per policyholder, is at work for local and federal government needs through government bonds of all types. Another third, or $268 per policyholder, is at work in business and industry through corporate securities. Some $145 per policyholder is in mortgages, extending financing aid to property owners, and the balance is in miscellaneous investments.

Vitamin E Over-rated

Does the feeding of vitamin E, or wheat germ oil, boost milk and butterfat production of dairy cows? One dairy research team said it does, but now two other groups of investigators have turned up strong new evidence that it does not, according to the nutrition committee of the American Veterinary medical association. "Vitamin E is one of the most controversial elements in the whole nutritional catalogue," this committee declares. "It has been touted as a remedy for many conditions in animals, but critical tests by reputable scientists have failed to substantiate most of the claims made for it."

In the beginning the Great God created man in His own image. He gave man the Sabbath Day and said "Keep It Holy." He gave man a code to live by, known as the Ten Commandments. Although today THREE of every FOUR people in America are unchurched... He gave man the Church and hoped he would be a worshipper in it, at least, every Sabbath Day. The Cosmic Judge of all the earth will reward our deeds with fairness. Whether to sleep or not to sleep through the hour of worship at your Church each Sunday... that is the question?

Typical of many of the "unchurched group" is the scene above... "The Sunday Morning Sleeper." There is little justification for the habitual "Sunday Morning Sleeper." Man's creation was such that it is necessary for him to gain strength and courage for the battles of life from the influence of the Church and the teachings of Jesus.

Jesus said that "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

A comfortable bed on Sunday morning with radio and a newspaper, wonderful as they are, cannot "tone up" and sweeten a life like an hour of worship in the Church of one's choice. Man needs something luxuries cannot give. He must be fortified for the gruesome tasks which may lie ahead; he must have Jesus on his side.

There is a certain reassurance that comes from the toll of the Church Bell and singing of the choir. Be a worshipper in the pew of your Church every Sunday. "You need the Church... The Church needs you." You'll find her doors ajar. Don't Be a Sunday Morning Sleeper.

Social Security to Benefit From Bill Signed by President

Here is what happened to old-age and survivors insurance in the Texas Panhandle area when President Truman signed the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act.

All monthly insurance checks now being paid to the 2589 social security beneficiaries in the 26 counties administered by the Amarillo Field Office will be raised substantially. This raise will be in the October checks, which are for the month of September, according to John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo office. The new amounts will be computed by the Social Security Administration, automatically, and no action is necessary on the part of persons already receiving checks to obtain the increase.

Manager Sanderson stated that under the old terms of the Social Security Act the 2589 beneficiaries in the Panhandle Area would have received about $45,000 for the month of September. Under the new increases, however, total payments for September are estimated to be about $84,000, or an increase of some $39,000 monthly in insurance benefits in this area.

In later articles, Sanderson said, an explanation of the major changes brought about by the amendments will be presented.

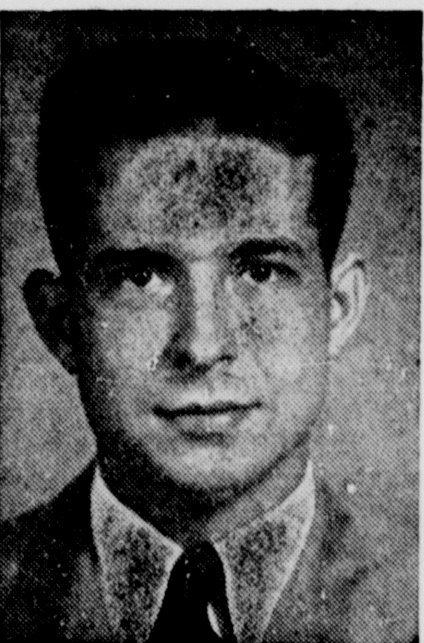

TOUCHER TRAINING

Army sources have disclosed that, from now on, army training camps will abandon their "G. I. Gentlemen" and will turn out troops trained as deadly killers under combat conditions. It is believed the decision to shift the emphasis from "spit-and-polish" and etiquette to more severe orientation stemmed from experience with green troops in Korea. Part of the new basic training treatment, slated to be tougher than the World War II program, will mean the return of rough-and-ready top sergeant.

BLOOD DONATIONS

The American Red Cross is appealing for whole blood for United Nations fighting forces in Korea. The plea followed a request to the Red Cross by the armed forces that blood collection be accelerated at once to meet rapidly growing needs.

Sincere Thanks

FEDERAL WORKERS

There were 1,968,940 employees on the Federal payroll at the end of the fiscal year on June 30th, a decline of 131,087 from the year before. While the biggest cut was in the number of civilian employees of the military establishment, it is expected that this reduction will be cancelled by the outbreak of the current Korean war.

No wonder the average American must use his head. He is always up to his neck in something.

Tentative Broadcast Plans for Talent Show Are Made

The talent show and free movie held every other Saturday as a part of the recreation program of Canyon continues to be popular with the young people of Canyon. Again last Saturday the program, sponsored by various citizens of Canyon, drew a full house. Richard Bunsied and Melvin Cunningham who appeared last Saturday were the first boys to participate in the show. Both boys and girls have come up with some interesting acts. It is hoped that young stars will continue to participate in the program designed to give boys and girls who like to perform an opportunity to appear before an audience.

The program is being paid for and sponsored by men in Canyon who are interested in the welfare of the young people in Canyon and Randall County. At each show an official from Canyon or Amarillo talks to the audience regarding various civic matters. Last week the sheriff of Randall County spoke on the problems of teenage dating.

Plans were made last week with radio station KAMQ of Amarillo for the program to be tape recorded and played over the station at a later date. The exact dates of the broadcast were not set, however the station manager expressed an interest in the program.

It is hoped that the program will continue throughout the year. Its continuation depends on whether or not there are enough interested citizens willing to sponsor such a program.

Coach Floyd Murray Open Letter to the People of Canyon

An open letter to the people of Canyon and this community. Dear Friends:

Always we have heard about the quality of the people of the Panhandle that make visitors love this section and that bring back those who move away. Having lived here for 8 years, we thought we knew something of the generosity and kindness of our neighbors, but not until the burning of our house on Tuesday did we really understand just how thoughtfully kind you could be.

Finding words to express our deep appreciation is difficult, but we want to use this means to express our gratitude to the firemen who worked so diligently extinguishing the fire, to the men who tirelessly moved out of the burning house into another house or temporary personal quarters and other belongings to the gentlemen who started and gathered the fund of money, to every individual who gave, and to everyone who has so graciously contributed to our re-establishing ourselves in another house. For each gesture of kindness, thank you from the depths of our hearts.

It is a pleasure to live here. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Harding and Jim.

Why worry about posterity? Our progeny worried about us—and what good did it do?

Grandmother enjoyed a party, so can you. Attend the "Gay 90's" Barn Dance, Sept. 7.

Board Equalization For City Will Meet Taxpayers Sept. 18

The Board of Equalization of the City of Canyon, composed of Bowen Foster, Milton Morris, and A. B. Duncan, concluded their sessions Wednesday night, Aug. 30. Gross valuations were placed on all residences and the City Commission in session Monday night determined that assessed valuations would be placed at 10% of those set by the Equalization Board. Notices of values from those rendered by taxpayers will be mailed, and those taxpayers will have the opportunity to appear before the equalization board for a hearing on Sept. 18. Taxpayers who have not signed a rendition statement will receive notices of values based on values by the Board of Equalization with opportunity for a hearing on these values.

Budgeted tax requirements for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1951 are $28,500.00; $14,000.00 of this amount for sinking fund, and $14,500.00 for the general fund. 1949-50 requirements were $24,100.00 for the general fund, and $1,800.00 for the sinking fund, making a total of $25,900.00 for the year.

Frances Standley-Dale Wegrich Are Married in Church Ceremony

In an impressive ceremony in the First Baptist Church on September 2, marriage vows were solemnized for Miss Frances Louise Standley and Mr. Wayne Dale Wegrich of Terre Haute, Indiana, at 7:30 in the evening. Miss Standley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Standley, Sr. of Canyon, and Mr. Wegrich is the son of A. F. Wegrich of Terre Haute, Ind.

Vows were spoken before an altar draped in white satin, and flanked with large basket arrangements of pink gladioli and seven branch candelabra. The altar arrangement was backed with large palms of Emerald foliage.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the wedding, Max Bellah, organist played "O Promise Me," "Through the Years," "Ave Maria," "Always," "My Wonderful One" and "One Alone." Introducing the ceremony Mrs. Jack D. McCoy of Waco, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mr. Bellah.

Attending the bride as bridesmaids were Miss Alice Pierce of Canyon and Mrs. L. A. Rasner of Waco. Mrs. Fred M. Standley, Jr. of Clovis, N. Mex., attended her sister-in-law as matron-of-honor. All the attendants wore identical gowns of aqua taffeta with matching mitts and halo hats. Their gowns were fashioned with portrait necklines, fitted bodices and skirts gathered in the back to form a bustle effect. They carried cascade bouquets of pink amaryllis.

Ringbearer was little Rob Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barnard of Claude.

Best man was R. E. McGinn of Terre Haute and ushers were Donald E. Standley of Dallas, and Fred M. Standley, Jr. of Clovis, N. Mex., both brothers of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a lovely picture in a gown of lustrous white satin. The frock featured molded princess lines in a closely fitted bodice, long tight sleeves and a graceful skirt which swept, in unpressed pleats, into a train of formal length. The bodice featured a stand-up collar plunging to a deep "V" from which a row of tiny self-covered buttons extended to the waistline. Point de Venise lace which veiled the bodice and extended to points at the waistline, front and back, was repeated to form calla points over her hands. Cascading over the bride's shoulders to her fingertips was a veil of imported bridal illusion caught to a white satin Juliet cap heavily embroidered with seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was showers of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Standley chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of crepe dubonnet with winter pink and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink amaryllis.

Following the wedding, members of the family and close friends feted the bridal couple at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. Receiving the guests besides the wedding party and the bride and bridegroom's parents, were the bridegroom's two sisters Mrs. William Miller of Terre Haute, Ind., and Mrs. N. C. Martin of Anderson, Ind.

During the reception, Mrs. Pete McGinn of Terre Haute, Ind., and Mrs. J. H. Kelley of San Gabriel, Calif., aunt of the bride, presided at the serving table. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Marvin Pite and Misses Jean Hill, Valeta Haines, and Sue Ann Colwell.

For a short wedding trip, the bride traveled in a green gabardine suit with brown accessories, and her corsage was a white orchid.

After September 4, the couple will be at home in Waco where they will both attend Baylor University.

Mrs. Wegrich is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended Baylor University in Waco last year.

Mr. Wegrich graduated from Wiley High School in Terre Haute, Ind., and served in the U. S. Navy for two years. He is now attending Baylor University where he is majoring in chemistry.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. William Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Pete McGinn, Bob McGinn of Terre Haute, Ind.; Mrs. N. C. Martin of Anderson, Ind.; Mrs. J. H. Kelley of San Gabriel, Calif.; Mrs. Jessie Carswell, Mrs. Stella

Gen. C. B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps, has a good chance of becoming chief of a rather strong "mobile army" ready to go anywhere, any time. The Korean affair has convinced many Congressmen that the U. S. actually needs two armies—one always on the alert, another that has to be mobilized. The Marine Corps is favored for the first task, Army Field Forces for the second.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, would like to shift the problems of Korea and Formosa to a United Nations Commission if he could find a formula. That would leave him more time to deal with European problems. The State Department still regards Europe as the major theater in this country's struggle with Soviet Russia.

Adoption of any of the Communist-control bills before Congress will be the signal for wholesale arrests of persons, now free, who are suspected of having violated immigration, naturalization and espionage laws. The FBI and the Immigration Service have hundreds of cases documented and ready for court action.

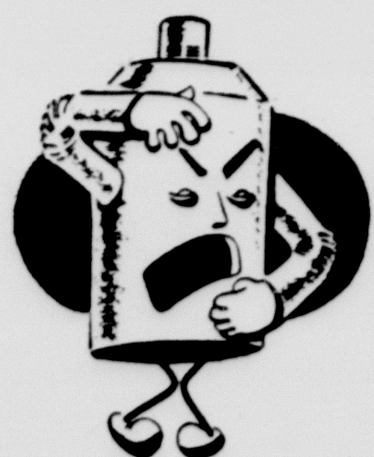

Businessmen are being told quietly by the National Security Resources Board not to worry too much if some key employees are called up in military reserves. They are advised that, if they can prove that their employees are actually essential, the Government will arrange to have them released from active duty.

Secretary Acheson is reported to be in line for appointment to fill the next vacancy on the Supreme Court. Acheson is said to have had a lifelong ambition to be a Supreme Court Justice. His appointment would open the way for John Foster Dulles to become Secretary of State.

Coffee Honors Bride-Elect

The Dick Ziegler home at 1001 5th Avenue was the scene of a coffee honoring Miss Sue Stephenson, bride-elect of Dick Barrett, on the afternoon of August 30. Hostesses were Mrs. Ziegler, Mrs. J. R. Barrett, and Miss Beulah Starnes of Lubbock.

The honoree's chosen color of blue was featured throughout the decorations.

On the desk at which 50 guests signed the bride's book was a cut glass bowl of yellow flowers, flanked by blue tapers and miniature brides.

The mantle was decorated with yellow flowers and blue tapers in crystal holders. Tiny brides bearing the names of Canyon's brides-elect were hidden in an attractive arrangement of veiling and clematis. Appointed in heirloom cut glass and silver, the serving table was centered with a miniature bridal party on a mirror reflector flanked by blue tapers in crystal holders. Veiling and flowers completed the arrangement.

Members of the house party, Mrs. George Gibson of Hereford, Mrs. Clyde McElroy, Mrs. John Plaster, Mrs. Kermit Pond, Mrs. Buddy Taylor and Mrs. Frances Hacker, wore corsages of blue shasta daisies.

The gift of the hostesses to the honoree was coffee spoons in her silver.

Meador-Crites Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony in the Buchanan Street Baptist Church, Miss LaVoice Meador became the bride of Charles W. Crites on Saturday evening, September 2. Miss Meador is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Meador of 3625 Hayden Street, Amarillo; parents of Mr. Crites are Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Crites of 1700 Buchanan. Rev. Earnest Toessner, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony.

The pre-nuptial prelude, played by Mrs. Curtis Walker at the organ included "Moonlight Sonata," "I Love Thee," "Through the Years" and "Because." Accompanied by Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Chesley Collier sang "Always" and "O Promise Me."

Arrangements of white gladioli and greenery flanked by candelabra decorated the altar while the aisles of the church were marked with white gladioli and satin streamers.

Attendants of the bride were Mrs. Mary Lee Wright, Miss Leatrice West and Mrs. Mary Bragg. Their taffeta dresses of yellow, lavender, and aqua were styled with princess lines. Their colonial bouquets were of pastel flowers.

Dressed in blue taffet, Miss Barbara Jean Strader, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

Jake Meador, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jack Harris and Willis Hamilton; ushers were Bill Buntin, Don Byers, Bill Bass and S. L. Storseth. Ring bearer was Grant Lamb.

The bride was attired in a dress of white satin styled with a fitted bodice, nylon net yoke and sleeves that came to a point on her hand. Across the head and scattered down the full length nylon net veil were small Lily of the Valley. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid and showered with white satin ribbon streamers and knots of green leaves.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Meador wore a teal blue crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Crites chose a grey gabardine suit complimented with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

At the reception in the bride's home the serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of red roses with white gladioli flanked by tapers. Mrs. Dave Strader, Mrs. Robert Meador, Mrs. G. B. Mann and Mrs. Calvin Meador served cake, and punch to the guests.

For her wedding trip by car to points in Colorado and New Mexico, the bride chose a powder blue nylon dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will be at home at 309 27th Street in Canyon.

Mrs. Crites was graduated from Amarillo High School and received her B. B. A. degree from West Texas State. She is now employed as assistant registrar at West Texas State. Mr. Crites, a graduate of Amarillo High School, attended Amarillo College and has been employed by International Harvester Company. A veteran of 37 months Navy service in World War II, he plans to enter West Texas State this fall.

RUBBER

The Commerce Department is understood to be considering an order to the rubber industry to begin using more synthetic and less natural rubber. While no date has been set for such action, some industry leaders believe that synthetic production should be expanded in view of the international crisis.

MANPOWER

The Labor Department has a team of twenty experts working on a program to supply new manpower to meet expected serious manpower shortages which may develop in key industries as the full impact of President Truman's multi-billion dollar Korean war program hits the nation's economy.

TANKERS

The United States today has many more—and larger—oil tankers than at the outset of World War II, according to the Department of Interior. On September 3, 1949, the latest figures show that there were 870 tankers in the Western hemisphere. Of these, 578 were under the U. S. flag—195 more than in 1939. There have been additional launchings in the last twelve months.

Heart

Operations Successful

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. Robert P. Glover, one of the surgeons who perfected the technique of operating on the mitral valve of the heart, reports 80 percent of the patients who have undergone the operation are living fairly normal lives.

The first operation to correct mitral stenosis, a closing of the valve—was performed two years ago.

"Since that time there have been 50 cases," Dr. Glover said. "Of these, eight died within the first month and a ninth died later of an infection not connected with the heart condition."

"Twenty of the remaining 41 are in excellent condition and have lost all the symptoms they had before the operation. It is fair to say that they are living normal lives."

"The other 21 have retained some effects of the disease because the disease had reached an advanced stage. However, many of them have returned to work and all are living fairly normal lives."

Princesses of Sho Live in Poverty In Orphan Home

SHUJI, Okinawa—The two little princesses of Sho, direct descendants of the Sho kings who long ruled Okinawa before the Japanese took over in the 19th century, are the forgotten royalty of the Pacific. Instead of living happily ever after, they are living in a squalid, tumbled down orphanage, barefoot, undernourished, and wearing rags.

The girls are Etsuko Sho, 10, and Sachiko Sho, 11. They were orphaned when their parents were killed during the wartime bombings.

Both are stunted in growth from malnutrition. Sachiko has an infectious skin disease. And they eat the substandard, monotonous meals which are all the Shuri orphanage and old folks' home can provide. Their daily 1,400 calories consists of rice, soy beans, barley soup and occasionally a little fish.

The princesses eat at rough hewn wooden tables and benches. The rice and beans are cooked in large iron pots over open wood fires, and are stirred with a stick. Roaches, rats and mosquitoes are everywhere.

The well pump in the compound is broken. The orphans have to draw water by hand. Soap is scarce, so washing clothes is a luxury.

The only thing they have is companionship. There are 224 other war orphans in the orphanage. And there are 89 old people sharing the pitiful huts of Shuri.

They sleep on hard grass mats on raised platforms in huts. The only play equipment they have are some homemade swings and slides. The children have to ride down the slide with grass pillows strapped behind. The slide is not very smooth.

Many of the inhabitants, like the princesses, were once prosperous.

Immigration Officials Probe Muldorf Killing

NEW YORK—Immigration officials and the FBI have a strange case to investigate. It originated in Germany.

In April, 1945, Benjamin Krieger, and his brother, Zelman, then 48, were getting their rations in the Muldorf prison camp. Zelman tried to get some extra food. An impatient young trusty hit both men over the head with a pot. Zelman died three days later with a fractured skull.

Recently Benjamin Krieger looked out his store window in New York and saw a man passing. He rushed out, grabbed the man's arm and asked him:

"Were you in Muldorf?"

The man nodded.

"Then you are the man who killed my brother," Krieger shouted.

The stranger broke away and ran into a bookstore and a crowd of Krieger's friends gave chase. Police rescued the man, who said he had been in the camp but knew nothing of Krieger's brother.

The case was turned over to the FBI and immigration officials for investigation.

Industrial Injuries Total 80,000 in First Quarter

WASHINGTON—The labor department has announced industrial injuries to 80,000 workers during the first quarter of the year, costing them $16,000,000 in pay.

Three hundred workers were killed and 4,300 permanently injured during the quarter, the bureau said. The total time lost was estimated at 1,600,000 man-days.

The number of injured during the first quarter of this year was 2 percent more than in the last quarter of 1949, but 11 percent less than in the first three months of last year.

The biggest accident increase was in the logging industry, which usually leads in injuries per man-hours worked. The rate jumped from 77.9 to 87.8 injuries per million man-hours.

In twenty-eight of the 120 industries surveyed, the injury rates were lower than in the previous quarter. Rates were higher in 41 and there was virtually no change in the remainder.

Power of the spirit seen as essential in winning war.

In 1903, George C. Murrell joined the Sulphur Springs fire department. On Jan. 1, 1950, he retired as chief but is still a member of the department and is fire marshal of that city.

Murrell saw the equipment change from the old hand-drawn hose cart to three large American LaFrance fire trucks. The News-Telegram (Eric Bagwell, editor) several years ago related some of the veteran firefighters' experiences.

He recalls a fire that broke out at night and lasted for hours. The flames started in the old Elks Hall on Connally street. Four buildings on the south side of the street were destroyed and wind swept the flames across to destroy two buildings on the north side of the street. Surrounding buildings were kept soaked in water to prevent spread of the fire and Chief Murrell was standing near a partition wall with his hose trained on one of the nearby structures when the wall caved in.

The closest call that he ever had however, was when the oil mill burned. He and another fireman, Kirk Kellogg, were on the ground, holding the line through a doorway in the second story. Suddenly the high brick wall tottered and fell. In that fleeting instant when he saw the wall leaning toward him, Murrell called, "Step Forward." Spectators screamed as the wall fell, for they believed the two firemen killed, but when the dust and smoke cleared away, there they stood, unharmed.

When Murrell saw that they did not have time to clear the pathway of the wall, he gave the signal to move forward so that, as the wall fell, they were in line with the doorway and so the wall passed over them and they didn't receive even a scratch.

A judge said to a jury, "You have been out for 36 hours. Have you reached a verdict?" A juror exclaimed, "We haven't even elected a foreman yet! There are six Democrats and six Republicans on this jury."

Bill Doolin, notorious old-time out-law, escaped from jail by telling a joke and then, while the guard was doubled up with laughter, grabbed his pistol. History does not tell what the joke was.

Hookworms Doing Much Damage to People of Texas

A puny little parasite no more than a quarter inch long when it's full grown can turn a champion weight lifter into an anemic cream puff.

Even while it's still a baby, this pernicious parasite can make a wheezing weakling out of a top field hand, and turn a stout boy's muscles to the texture of soft butter.

It's a hookworm. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, with understandable disdain, puts the finger on it as the cause of so-called toe itch, dew itch, ground itch, and summer scratch.

Says he: "All these itches are provincial ways of saying hookworm."

Dr. Cox says his department has been waging a ten-year battle against hookworms in Texas, and that deep inroads have been made into its natural habitat, especially in eastern and southern sections. Health experts know what it is and how it gets into the human body, but the big job is in convincing people that they ought to do something about it.

Hookworms live a double life, the health official says, half in the intestines of a human being and half in the soil around an open pit privy. The female lays eggs while attached to the intestines.

Eggs pass from the body, and hatch within 24 hours. Then the young worm lies in wait for the first unsuspecting barefoot person—usually a youngster—to come by. It pierces the foot skin and slowly inches its way deeper and deeper into the body until it reaches the intestinal tract where the cycle starts again.

"It is a disease," Dr. Cox says, "that stunts the growth of children, causes skin discoloration, loss of weight, and anemia." Severe infestations often cause a morbid craving for such things as chalk or dirt, he adds.

But it's easy enough to control—merely by building properly designed sanitary pit privies or septic tanks. That, and wearing shoes.

A good many children in various rural sections have had light infestations all their lives, and have never known what it means to feel entirely well.

Close Neighbors of Earth Discovered by Minnesotan

Discovery of a pair of stars believed to be nearer to the earth than any other star except one has been announced by Dr. Willem J. Luyten, chairman of the astronomy department at the University of Minnesota. The astronomer also reported that a tremendous atomic explosion occurred on one of the new stars last December.

The new discovery, which is in the constellation Cetus (The Whale) was found, Dr. Luyten explained, by comparing photographic plates which he made at the Harvard university observatory station in South Africa in 1930 with plates taken at the same observatory in 1944.

Further observations made with the 36-inch reflector at the University of Arizona's observatory at Tucson indicated that these are among the very nearest stars, probably less than six light-years away. A light-year is approximately six trillion miles, and most stars are more than 100 light-years away from the earth.

If this preliminary determination is confirmed by further observation, Dr. Luyten pointed out, these will be the nearest stars known in space except for one and the nearest visible from most of the United States. Only Alpha Centauri, four and one-half light years distant, is nearer. However, the earth's closest star neighbor is visible chiefly in the southern hemisphere.

Traffic Noise Tolerated More than Industry's

Although traffic noise generally is more intense than industrial noise, individuals consider it less objectionable, George Bonvallet, associate physicist at Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology, told the annual meeting of the Acoustical Society of America.

Bonvallet listed two factors which led to his conclusion:

"1. The public may tolerate public transportation noise on the incorrect basis that it cannot be reduced, and

"2. Traffic noise, disregarding automobile horns and clanging trolley gongs, increases in intensity then decreases when the source is near the listener. Industrial noise, on the other hand, often changes abruptly. Generally it starts and stops suddenly and may be objectionable because of its characteristic quality recognizable in forging hammers, steam exhaust blasts, traveling cranes, whistles, bells, etc."

"Factory noise outside plants is not as loud as it is reputed to be," Bonvallet said. "The few plants that make noise have given a bad reputation to industry in general."

Bonvallet pointed out that only about 6 per cent of industrial noise could be considered objectionably intense on the basis of his preliminary studies.

Sights in Arizona

The petrified forest is situated just 10 miles south of U.S. highway 66, near Holbrook, in northeastern Arizona. Within a few miles of Flagstaff in north central Arizona are Sunset Crater national monument, Walnut Canyon national monument, Waputki national monument and picturesque Oak Creek canyon. The town of Williams, also located on U.S. highway 66, is the gateway to one of the most popular attractions in the nation—the Grand canyon. Each year thousands of people from all parts of the country and many foreign lands journey to the Grand canyon to view this breathtaking spectacle.

Overfire Jets Abate Smoke

Improvement in furnace performance and smoke abatement have been shown on all types of stoker-fired and hand-fired furnaces by the use of overfire jets, William S. Major, development engineer for Bituminous Coal Research, Inc., Pittsburgh, reported in a fuels session of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He said maximum benefits from jets are most likely to occur on spreader-stoker fired furnaces. The use of jets has not only been effective in substantially reducing smoke density, Mr. Major declared, but it has increased boiler and furnace efficiency, reduced soot and slag deposits on boiler and economizer surfaces, reduced both the quantity and carbon content of the cinder carryover, shortened the flame and reduced the final temperatures when surfaces are of the same degree of cleanliness and enabled furnaces to operate with slightly lower excess air without unburned combustible gases.

New Finishes in Textiles

Fabrics are appearing on the market today which offer the consumer value, durability and high fashion never before available in the history of textiles. It can be expected that these new fabrics will be available in increasing quantities during 1949. These fabrics are the result of new developments, advances and discoveries in the art of "finishing." For example, it is not only possible to obtain washable colors; but, finishes and fabric qualities which are equally durable through washings.

Mummies Found at Saqqara Throw New Light on Egypt

The patchwork story of ancient Egypt, gradually emerging through dusty finds in tomb, temple and pyramid, is richer by 10 more mummies, discovered in deep-underground, rock-walled tombs at the Saqqara cemetery of Egypt's old capital, Memphis.

This burial ground by the long-vanished fountainhead of early Egyptian power already has yielded a rich store of detail for the historians, notes the National Geographic society. On the Nile about 15 miles south of Cairo, it saw the beginning, in 1930, of epoch-making searches into the secrets of the First and Second Dynasties of 5,000 years ago.

Archaeologists' "digs" at Saqqara have revealed complex patterns of royal and other burial structures, significant inscriptions, and thousands of personal articles hinting at life during various periods of Egyptian development. The recently explored tombs, buried near the famous and far older Step Pyramid, have been attributed by the experts to the Twenty-Sixth Dynasty, about 600 years before Christ.

The tombs and their valuable contents were turned up in connection with the extensive pyramid project of the Egyptian antiquities department. One of the mummies has been identified as a scribe in the temple of the god Ptah. Another is believed to have been his wife, whose wrappings contained a golden heart buried with her.

Sod and Mulch Culture Recommended for Orchard

Grass and legumes should play a prominent part in an orchard management program, says Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the horticulture department at Michigan state college.

"In apple and pear orchards a system of sod and mulch culture has proved successful in most parts of Michigan," Dr. Tukey states. "Of all the things a fruit grower can do and be wrong in the doing, he is least likely to be wrong when he mulches."

A 20-year experiment at the college was used to compare the cultivation-cover crop and sod-mulch systems of soil management in apple orchards. Although the trees in the cultivation-cover crop plot started faster, the trees in sod and mulch were larger and had produced the greater total acre yield at the end of the trial.

The cultivation-cover crop method is more popular in peach, plum, and cherry orchards, Tukey points out. However, some growers are successfully producing these fruits in a permanent sod-mulch program.

Soil erosion in orchards can be effectively controlled with grasses and legumes, whether permanent or temporary. In addition, these covers will add very important organic matter to the soil.

Mulching materials can often be produced right on the farm. Alfalfa, smooth brome, and other crops can be grown on land too rough for other use.

True Color Complements

Of all the patterns for color harmony, the easiest to determine are the true complements. These are the two colors directly across the color wheel from each other: red and green, orange and blue, yellow and purple. Each of these pairs represent all the colors in the visible spectrum range, or completeness of color. Take the complements, red and green, for instance. In green, blue and yellow are combined. That means that red and green together contain the three primary colors—completeness of color in other words.

Swine Erysipelas

In areas where there are outbreaks of swine erysipelas, it may be necessary to take immediate steps to protect newly farrowed pigs, according to livestock health authorities. In such cases, pigs often are vaccinated against this disease on the day of birth, so as to prevent losses. Owners are cautioned that it is easy to confuse swine erysipelas with other diseases, particularly navel ill, hog cholera, allergic conditions, and nutritional deficiencies. Because of the rapid spread and deadly nature of erysipelas, and the danger of its transmission to other animals and human beings, swine growers are urged to place suspected cases immediately under the care of a veterinarian.

Add Tomatoes to Meat

Tomatoes hold a large share of their vitamins and fine flavor when canned. Adding them to meat dishes is a popular way to get them into family meals. Miss Grace Armstrong, nutritionist, University of Illinois college of Agriculture, suggests pouring the canned tomatoes over a pot roast about an hour before the end of the cooking period. The tomatoes seem to help tenderize the meat, and they add flavor to the gravy. For extra flavor, add a very small amount of garlic and just a trace of thyme along with the tomatoes.

ELECTRIC POWER

While the cost of living for the average householder has risen nearly sixty-seven per cent in the last ten years, the cost of electricity has dropped 5 to 10 per cent in the same period, according to the Federal Power Commission.

HOME-BUILDING

July was the biggest home-building month on record, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which states that 144,000 new non-farm dwelling units were started last month. The total for the first eight months of this year is 839,000 units.

ANNUITIES

About 172,000 former government employees or their families are receiving monthly annuity checks from the Civil Service Retirement fund. The fund paid out over $172,000,000 during the last fiscal year.

Military leaders believe that North Korean forces should be pushed above the 38th parallel and soundly defeated before fighting is brought to an end. They suggest that this can be done under a U. N. agreement to establish a trusteeship for the whole Korean peninsula.

Chinese Communists are expected by European diplomats in Japan to launch an all-out offensive in Asia if they move against Formosa. They believe an invasion attempt on Formosa will be accompanied by Chinese reinforcements to North Korea and moves against Hong Kong, Indo-China and, possibly, Burma.

Several Hundred will Die on Highways By the end of the Year

Hundreds of good people will be killed on the highways of the United States before the year 1950 ends. There seems to be little public indignation over the slaughter. The average automobile driver, acquainted with the natural hazards of the road, hesitates to incite drastic penalties through the fear that some unavoidable catastrophe will land him in the hoose-gow.

There was a time when high speeds were blamed for most of the accidents but the years have produced better cars and better highways. What would have been criminal carelessness in the Twenties and Thirties is considered reasonably safe in the Fifties, and, some years from now, the present high speeds will be routine.

There are certain recognized criminal acts in connection with the operation of motor vehicles, however, which will continue to be condemned. Driving an automobile under the influence of alcohol is one of them. It is dangerous, not only to the driver, but to all who use the highway. It should be severely punished and yet, in many instances, convictions are hard to secure and punishment is avoided.

The drunks are public enemies when operating automobiles and should be "persuaded" to let others drive in peace. It is a crime and should be promptly punished as a crime. To do this will save some lives in 1950.

Diplomats from countries that have sent troops to Korea to fight alongside Americans are wondering how to pay for supplies and equipment for those forces. They want to know if the United States is to request payment in dollars for supplies, or is going to charge anything at all.

President Truman's request that Congress postpone action on an excess-profits tax stems from Treasury doubts that any excess-profits tax should be enacted. Treasury experts are inclining to the view that higher rates on the corporation income tax are preferable to an excess-profits tax.

The British midget submarine that has recently been in the Chesapeake Bay is rumored to be designed primarily as a "hunter sub" for use in warfare against enemy submarines.

Young Calves Hit Hardest By Baffling 'X' Disease

When X disease strikes a herd of cattle, death losses may run as high as 90 per cent in affected animals under 6 months of age. Losses average 10 to 30 per cent in adult cattle. In addition, pregnant cows often abort or give birth to dead calves, and many of these cows die after freshening.

At least 12 different nutritional, parasitic, and infectious conditions look somewhat like X disease and may be mistaken for it by persons not familiar with the characteristics of this malady. Watery eyes, ulcers in the mouth and around the muzzle, drying up and wrinkling of the skin, and progressive emaciation are typical symptoms.

Veterinarians have been studying X disease ever since it first was reported several years ago, but up to now they have been unable to determine its exact cause.

According to some observers, the changing chemistry of the soil and forage in certain areas may be an important factor. The view is that chemical changes cause smaller amounts of beneficial minerals, and larger amounts of harmful elements, to become available for plant growth. Cattle are then poisoned by consuming plants grown on such soil.

It also is believed that a virus or other infectious agent may be involved. In view of the possible contagious nature of this disease, and until further investigation reveals more about it, owners are urged to segregate all cattle suffering from X disease and to keep them in quarantine.

Revolutionary War Women Who Won Fame from Flags

Betsy Ross wasn't the only American woman of the Revolutionary war period who gained fame for her flag making prowess.

A young matron named Rebecca Young made the flag that Gen. George Washington carried when the Continental army took part in the siege of Boston.

Mrs. Young, who had a flag shop in Philadelphia, was noted in the Colonies for her exquisite needlework. Her fine stitching, embroidered scallops, and beautiful patchwork quilts were the talk of the countryside, according to childcraft books.

The flag that General Washington requisitioned Mrs. Young to make, had thirteen alternate red and white stripes. Appliqued on the blue field in the upper left-hand corner were crosses of Saint Andrew and Saint George—a design which represents the union of Scotland and England.

It was named the "Grand Union Flag" by General Washington and flown by troops of the Continental army, for the first time about January 1, 1776.

Like Betsy Ross, who is credited with having made the country's first official flag, Mrs. Young did not design the flag General Washington ordered from her. He is said to have adopted the design for it from an ensign that had been raised by John Paul Jones from the deck of the ship Alfred on December 3, 1775.

"Crazy" Foxes in New York

Mass vaccination of dogs has brought canine rabies under nearly complete control in New York state, but foxes infected with this disease continue to cause heavy losses of livestock. During the past three years in this state alone, nearly 1,000 cows have died of rabies after being attacked by "crazy" foxes. Rabies is known to exist in foxes and other wild animals in the states of the Appalachian range from New York to Georgia, in the southern tier from Florida to Arizona and up into California, and in the midwestern zone from Ohio to Iowa. Trapping programs have been inaugurated in several states as a means of eliminating the rabid fox menace to domestic animals and human beings.

Dressings for Fish

An endless variety of dressings may be served with fish. The secret is to add just the right amount of seasoning to enhance the delicate fish flavor rather than to mask it. Sour cream can be used as the basis for preparing a number of different fish sauces. Miss Frances Cook, foods specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture, recommends this easy-to-prepare one: To a half cup of whipped sour cream, add 2 tablespoons of vinegar and a dash of tabasco sauce and salt to taste. Then just before serving, blend in ¼ cup of finely chopped or grated cucumber. Be sure the cucumber is thoroughly chilled, and blend it in carefully.

Use of Trifocals

Trifocals, which provide a middle-range for seeing as well as the near and far vision of bifocals, are becoming increasingly prevalent, partly because the United States is becoming an "older" nation. (The number of older persons is increasing in proportion to the number of younger ones.) At about the age of 40 the average person enters the "double-vision era," when glasses are needed for near-far seeing. Trifocals offer also the transition step of middle-range seeing.

Cotton and wool fabrics blended in new fashions for the fall.

Communists Stop and Listen to War Reports

During the first weeks of the Korean war Americans were stunned by the tragic inadequacy of our forces and equipment. Many felt a personal responsibility for the needless loss of life. It was a healthy and well-founded reaction which will lead to correction of mistakes and weeding out of inept officials. There are already encouraging signs of improvement. John Osborne, Time and Life senior correspondent in the Pacific, writes: "The American effort and the American soldier in Korea are magnificent. Doubtless we could and should have been better prepared. But . . . today we have in Korea more men and more arms than we sent to the invasion of North Africa in November of 1942, eleven months after Pearl Harbor."

Intelligence reports received in Washington indicate that the evident military ability of this country to cope with the communists in Korea has impressed the countries of Southeast Asia. Applications for communist party membership are dwindling and pictures of the communist leader Mao Tse-tung are disappearing from shop windows. Even more encouraging is the opinion of authorities on the mystery of why Russia has not moved into other areas while the United States has its hands full in Korea. They point out that we have in readiness, prepared to strike with hair-trigger swiftness, a fleet of more than 2,000 Air Force bombers able to carry atom bombs within a matter of hours to every major city in Russia. And we have the bombs to do the job. In the opinion of these authorities is correct, this factor, plus an industrial production potential of near astronomical proportions, has checked Russia for the time being.

Another element of strength that is not fully appreciated is the growing efficiency and productive capacity of American agriculture. Food is a mighty weapon and our farms are producing it in record quantities. The magazine Country Gentleman recently described what has been happening on the farm: "Ever since the end of World War II, farmers have been turning out, year after year, nearly a fourth more than in the year of Pearl Harbor, and it's hard to picture the peaks to which farm output might be pushed under necessity. Leading agricultural scientists now believe that the output of the farm plant of the United States could be doubled by putting to use all the production knowledge we now have. . . ."

"Significantly, the great upsurge in farm production during and since World War II came about with only a minor increase in acreage harvested. . . . Furthermore, the gains were made in a period when farmers

Ho, Ho, Americans Bow Down to Kings, Queen-Britisher

According to Ernest Joiner of the Ralls Banner, we as Americans are to blame for all the hullaboo raised in favor of the King and Queen of England. Americans like royalty, states a visiting Britisher. No wonder that we have Queens of football; king bees of this that and the other. Here is the way a visiting Britisher put the case, according to Joiner.

Richard Knott, personable young British farmer now touring the South Plains, gave us quite a jolt just before the Rotary Club meeting Friday which he was to address. We asked him why it is that in England, a strongly democratic people continued to pay such homage to the King and assorted royalty. He replied quickly that the idea of the English spending their days and nights tossing roses in the path of approaching royalty and gathering outside Buckingham Palace at all hours of the day and night for a glimpse of the "rulers" is strictly a phoney. No where but in the United States, he declared, do people believe such things. That, he said, must be because the newspapers play up the doings of British royalty to appease their own inherent love of royalty. They get more gift hams from Americans than they do from Englishmen. English newspapers carry less space on the royal family than do American papers. Richard hears more about the King and Queen in America than he does in England. Which leads us to believe there are still a goodly sprinkling of royalists among us, those who believe in absolutism with unlimited powers and an obscure divine relationship.

With all our prodigality, we are demonstrating as never before the achievements attainable by free men. It is these achievements that are now being felt in Korea and that are earning the respect of other nations—including Russia.

Senator Owen Brewster, of Maine, has not been greatly damaged by the Senate's investigation of wire tapping in Washington. Democrats hoped to embarrass the Maine Senator, who is Republican senatorial campaign chairman. But all the investigation has disclosed to date is that a lot of wire tapping has been done.

Representative Richard M. Nixon (Rep.), of California, is not expected to press any further the House Un-American Activities Committee's investigation of Lee Pressman, former CIO General Counsel. Mr. Nixon is running for the Senate and is too busy with his campaign.

The President's fireside chat was scheduled after Democratic Party leaders told him that some action had to be taken to stem the growing tide of criticism against Administration foreign and defense policies.

MOUSE LIVES LONG

Berkeley, Calif. — A pocket mouse, caught by Dr. Seth B. Benson six years ago, never drank water or other liquids and consumed only small amounts of bird seed. It apparently got all the water it needed from the dry seed. Dr. Benson says many desert animals have body processes which use very small amounts of water.

FIRE LOSS

The nation's fire loss during July totaled $52,980,000, a decrease of 7.2 per cent under the $57,116,000 listed for June. The loss, however, was 6.8 per cent greater than that of July, 1949. Destruction for the first seven months of 1950 amounted to $420,097,000, a 5.4 increase over the same period of last year.

British military experts think Defense Secretary Louis Johnson is unduly optimistic when he suggests that the Korean campaign may be cleaned up by February. The British, who have had much experience in this type of fighting, doubt such campaigns can be ended quickly.

The National employment figure for July stood at 61,214,000, or slightly less than June, but the total was still close to the record high of 61,600,000. Unemployment was down to 3,213,000 compared with 3,384,000 in June.

Dept. of Safety Urges That Autos Be in Good Condition

The International crisis has a direct bearing on this Country's traffic safety record. That was the opinion expressed today by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in appealing to Texas motorists for an immediate check on the mechanical condition of their vehicles.

"It is imperative," said Garrison, "that each Texan do his utmost toward helping to maintain and conserve the resources of this Nation." An important portion of those resources, he indicated, is the thousands of motor vehicles which are operated daily in this State. He urged all car owners to have their vehicles inspected regularly for mechanical defects.

"Worn out and defective automobiles," the Director emphasized, "are conducive to increased traffic mishaps. By periodic inspections we are serving a dual purpose. First, we assure ourselves of continued transportation in case controls or restrictions are placed on motoring, and, second, we make a decided contribution toward greater traffic safety, thus assisting in the conservation of our human resources."

Bees Talk, Fish Smell and Hear, Expert Reports

MUNICH, Germany—Bees can talk and fish can smell, a professor at the Zoological Institute of the University of Munich believes.

Fish smell food in water, he says. They can hear, too. He told of putting a student in a tank in an aquarium and having him play the violin. The student didn't hear it, but the fish did.

"Of course bees do not speak as we do. They have no words. That would be impossible, I think. They speak another way. They waggle," he said.

He explained when a bee locates some nectar, it eats its fill, then wings back to the home colony to spread the word that "soup's on."

"By a certain number of waggles per minute," said Professor Kar von Frisch, "it tells the others exactly how far they will have to travel."

It also waggles in the direction of the nectar.

But getting back to fish, the professor said, there is one species, the knurrhahn, that "almost talks."

"The male knurrhahn makes a soft growl," Frisch said. "When he growls that is a signal. The female knurrhahn hears it and comes to him. Then he stops growling."

But most fish are better at hearing, he said. Frisch had phenomenal success with one experiment. He would blow a whistle and then hit a fish on the head with a rod. Pretty soon the fish hid whenever he blew the whistle.

Flagpole Sitter's Dream Of Glory Killed by Insults

ATLANTA, Ga.—Odell Smith dreamed of riding to glory on a flagpole. That dream, however, has been smashed.

Smith learned—by sitting 108 days atop a 60 foot pole—that flagpole sitters aren't much in demand. The fortune he had expected to make with books, advertising schemes and radio shows amounted to $13.

He didn't mind the lack of money so much, Smith said, but the insults hurled at him by rowdy customers at the drive-in where the pole was erected finally broke his spirit.

He returned to earth, 10 days short of breaking the world record.

Scientist Plans Record Dive in Pacific Ocean

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Sometime this summer a man will descend a mile into the ocean to see the weird creatures that inhabit the sea at that depth.

Last year Otis Barton, Boston scientist, descended 4,500 feet off Santa Cruz island. The lighting system in his steel diving bell failed and consequently his movie cameras did not record the strange, self-illuminated sea creatures he described by telephone during the perilous dive.

This time, however, the lighting will be ocean proof, he said. Powerful bulbs sealed in mineral oil will be attached to the outside of the 7,000 pound ball which Barton calls a "benthoscope."

After tests he will attempt to dive to 6,000 feet.

As before, the benthoscope will be lowered by cable from a large barge. The laboratory ship Velerio IV of the University of Southern California will co-operate in the venture.

MacArthur Touch Evident In Korean War Communiques

WASHINGTON, D. C.—That MacArthur touch is evident in the Korean war.

Relaying to headquarters the text of his communiques and other official announcements, Gen. MacArthur closed out his report with an account about a captured North Korean naval lieutenant.

The North Korean had been skipper of five motor torpedo boats sunk by an American cruiser. Asked by American interrogators why he had failed to fire his torpedoes during the attack and had tried to run his boat aground, the lieutenant replied: "The gunfire from the cruiser was so heavy we thought it would be safer on the beach."

The MacArthur report added: "This is probably the first quotable quote of the war."

Twenty-Six Pigs in One Litter May be World Record

OWENSBORO, Ky.—What may be the world's record pig litter has been born on the farm of Guy M. Deane.

The sow gave birth to 26 pigs—almost three times the number in a normal litter. Twenty-three lived and appeared healthy. The other three were believed to have been accidentally killed by the animal.

Biggest problem of the over-size litter was feeding. The sow was able to feed only 12 at a time. To ease the situation, Deane handed over five of the little pigs to two other sows.

The 26-pig sow, a spotted Poland China, was bred to a Hampshire boar. It was her fourth litter. Herebefore her litters had run from eight to 12 pigs.

Pet Projects Not Being Stopped in Spending Spree

Reliable reports indicate that only minor cuts are to be made in non-military government spending.

Departments and agencies are busy trying to "save" pet projects. The ultimate in farcical gestures has come from the Department of the Interior which has issued rules for "voluntary" cutting back of all non-defense projects as soon as possible. Construction will be stopped for the current year, says the Secretary of the Interior, except the following: (1) projects involving substantial electric power development; (2) municipal and industrial water supplies, except irrigation work which can be completed by July 1, 1952; (3) projects which substantially contribute to food production and for which funds are available; (4) investigations, operation and maintenance programs.

Critics have pointed out that the above self-imposed rules, liberally interpreted, would have slight effect on the scale and expense of the Department of Interior's construction activities. And it is a safe bet that if given enough rope the Department will interpret the rules liberally, since it has been the chief protagonist of nationalization of the electric industry under any guise that comes in handy. At present the public power spokesmen are claiming the war emergency as an excuse for going ahead with plans to spend billions of tax dollars for unnecessary construction of Federal electric generating and distribution systems, regardless of the fact that the most efficient electric industry in the world, owned and run by private citizens, has demonstrated that it is more than able to meet the country's requirements, and pay heavy taxes in addition.

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is having trouble buying the aluminum needed to make storage bins for this year's grain harvest. Lack of storage bins played an important part in the 1948 elections. Then the Republicans were blamed for the shortage. Democrats haven't solved the problem in two years.

Amarillo National Bank Great Aid In Our Development

The Amarillo National Bank is one of the most widely known financial institutions in this section. They serve the public with a complete banking service and have the reputation of being a conservative and reliable institution.

This bank has developed and grown as the community itself has prospered. By its adequate banking facilities it has played an important part in the growth and development of the entire Panhandle.

Here you may deposit your money on a checking account, time or demand certificate. Their savings department is one of the most patronized services offered. The Amarillo National Bank at 401 Polk in Amarillo, has been the mainstay for many individuals and institutions of the community as they are vitally interested in the progress of the agricultural and livestock industry.

All officers and directors are local citizens and are of faultless character and good judgment. Through their efforts and knowledge of banking this institution has gained its prominent position as a leading bank in this territory.

In this edition we take this opportunity to publicly congratulate the Amarillo National Bank on its splendid record of service to our people and trust they shall continue to serve us in the future as they have in the past.

KITCHEN HELPER

A new maid had just arrived from the country, and her mistress was giving her a list of household requirements.

"And don't forget, Florence," she said, "we want a new grill for the kitchen."

Florence stared vacantly.

"You know what a grill is, I suppose?" inquired the mistress.

"Course I do," returned the girl.

"It's a big, hairy monkey, and if you want one of those in the kitchen, I'm leaving."

PATRIOTIC GESTURE

"So you traded in your old car, at last," said the pessimist.

"Yes," said the optimist.

Amarillo Packing Co. Is Aid to The Livestock Industry

One of the most important services of the Amarillo Packing Company is the market they offer to the livestock raisers of this and surrounding territory. Through the location of their plant in Amarillo, the small producer is able to market his livestock at prices from which no deduction is made for feed, yardage or commission as would be made if the stock were shipped to a distant packing plant.

Consumers also benefit from the plant being here as they receive meats in a fresher condition than if shipped in from a distant packing company. Their "Longhorn Brand" meat products meet with universal approval and are in great demand. In many cases they act as trade winners for the merchants selling them.

The Amarillo Packing Company slaughters thousands of head of livestock for local consumption with the result that manufacturing costs that are largely made up of wages to employees are not distributed in some far off community but are kept in our own trade area.

Amarillo Packing Company has a host of friends throughout this and the surrounding section. Under the very capable management of Mr. E. J. Husband, the plant is well equipped and kept in a most sanitary condition. It is a pleasure for us to highlight the activities of this progressive meat packing house and to add our praise to that already heard.

ON THE JOB

The Motorist—Say, friend, my engine's stalled. Think you can help me find out what's the matter with it?

Constable Talltimber—I can, but I won't just now. I can't pinch you for speedin', but in ten minutes, I'll fix your engine, an' then pinch you for parkin here too long.

ABSTINENCE OR ELSE

"So you attribute your longevity to abstinence from alcohol?" inquired the reporter.

And the centenarian admitted.

"Yes, my wife would have killed me if I had touched a drop."

Robert A. Taft, U. S. Senator from Ohio: "I believe if an all-out mobilization and preparation for war is announced, it will almost certainly lead to World War III."

Violt Crawford, Scottish girl bride, after visiting the United States: "We probably won't sleep a wink on the way back, talking about what we've done and seen in America."

Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister: "I ask this assembly to assure our German friends that we shall hold their safety and freedoms as our own."

Sicilian Bandit Shot Down After Seven-Year Hunt

CASTELVETRANO, Sicily—The most celebrated bandit of modern times, following a record manhunt, has been killed. Salvatore Giuliano, elusive king of Sicilian bandits, was shot down by police after a hunt of seven years.

A special Italian national police detachment made the kill after trailing the swarthy, dark-eyed gunman for days with a radio car camouflaged as a newspaper truck. The detachment formed part of a 2,000-man force which had hunted Giuliano for 10 months.

The skirmish marked the end of a man accused of killing nearly 100 policemen and scores of other crimes, a man who defied Italian authorities in barbed declarations and proclaimed his own "free state of Sicily" after he took to the hills in 1943.

Challenged Officials

Italy's interior minister, Mario Scelba, said it marked the end of banditry in Sicily. The bandit king, whom friends regarded as a Robin Hood because of the way he shared the loot of his robberies and kidnappings, had been a fugitive since he slew a policeman who tried to seize a load of black market wheat from him September 3, 1943.

Officers had been close on Giuliano's heels for two weeks. Then just before dawn on July 5, Giuliano crept from a house in which he was hiding and stole to another building, whose door was shrouded by a cloth curtain. Police were there, waiting for him.

Guns barked as he pushed his way through the curtain. Giuliano turned to get away, but fell dead by a tree.

The bandit once "declared" war on Italy as the commander in chief of a bandit force of about 20 men. Several years ago he challenged 10 government leaders to fight him, one at a time.

"If I lose, it will be my life," he wrote. "If I win, I will take over the government."

Price on Head

An interior minister once put a price of 500,000 lire (about $850) on Giuliano's head. Giuliano came back with an offer of 600,000 lire (about $1,000) for the minister's head.

Giuliano had been termed a fiery anti-Communist. He was charged with turning machine guns on a May Day parade near Palermo in 1947, killing eight persons and wounding 33.

Athletic Woman Swings Man to Safety on Porch

CHICAGO, Ill.—Women are called the weaker sex, but it isn't always so.

Mrs. Gloria Schmidt, 25, who weighs 200 pounds, heard cries of help from her back porch. She found Joseph Vogt, 63, clinging to a third floor window sill, 35 feet above the ground, by his fingertips.

Vogt had returned home and found himself locked out of his apartment. He leaned over, trying to reach a window from his back porch, but slipped over the railing.

Mrs. Schmidt leaned out and grabbed Vogt by the ankles. She shouted to him to let go and swung him in an arc through the air until he hung suspended by his ankles.

"I'll try to hold you until the fire department comes," she gasped.

But the 180 pound Vogt was too heavy and Mrs. Schmidt was afraid the porch railing would give way. She lowered him as far as she could and swung him, head down, to the second floor porch below.

Physicians said Vogt suffered a brain concussion when he struck his head on the porch floor. But police said he had Mrs. Schmidt to thank for being alive.

Barbers Invent Pole To Foil Town Jokers

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Two Superior barbers had trouble keeping a barber pole in front of their place of business. Several times poles have been carted off, even though they weighed about 200 pounds.

When city workers recently prepared to cut down a tree in the front of the shop of John F. Grant and Felix F. Cross, the two barbers asked that it be sawed off six feet from the ground.

The barbers peeled the bark off the stump and painted red and white and blue stripes on it. They don't expect to have further trouble.

Clifton Webb, Movie Baby Sitter, Catches Mumps

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Clifton Webb, the movie and stage star, who gained his greatest fame in the movies as a baby sitter, caught the mumps recently.

Seems he caught them from juvenile actress Gigi Perreau, with whom he was making a picture.

Webb, 59, acted as a baby sitter in the movie "Sitting Pretty."

Herbert Drug Co. Is Leading Pharmacy

The relationship between the apothecary and the physician is very close. The people should have confidence in the doctor and the doctor must have confidence in the druggist, for he himself is unable without a chemical analysis to determine whether all the ingredients called for in his prescription are contained in the compound or if the druggist, in many instances is the medium through which the physician gains certain of his knowledge.

While the drugs and prescriptions are the foundation of the Herbert Drug Co. in the Amarillo Bldg., corner of 3rd and Polk, like other modern druggists of other cities, they have a large business in the better cosmetics, namely Marie Earle cosmetics of which they are exclusive distributors, toilet accessories, and sundry articles from which one may select necessities to fit any purse. The brands of the many articles they do carry are known the world over not for their high cost, but for their quality and popularity with the public.

Mr. J. H. Herbert, registered pharmacist and manager of the Herbert Drug Co. is the man to whom much of the success of the store is due since it is he who oversees the compounding of medicines and acts as buyer for the select drug items handled. With the past as a criterion and the future to anticipate we predict much success for Mr. Herbert and the Herbert Drug Co. in Amarillo.

PALS

"Girls, my pal over there is going to surprise everybody at the party tonight by singing, so I guess I'll accompany him."

"On the piano?"

"No, to the hospital."

MELODY LINGERS ON

"My daughter has arranged a little piece for the piano."

"Good! It's time we had a little peace."

BUILDING DROP DUE

While the new Government curbs on mortgages will not check the record-breaking housing boom until late fall, it is expected that the eventual effect will be a 25 to 30 per cent cut in home-building next year. The new regulations require veterans to make a five per cent down payment when buying a home, and require down payments five per cent larger than heretofore on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

SAME CLOTHES

"I don't like to say it, dear, but Fred doesn't seem to be as well dressed as when you married him three years ago."

"That's strange. I'm positive it's the same suit."
